This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. PREFACE.

THIS second volume of the catalogue of the Western Manuscripts in the Library of Trinity College comprises those standing in Class R. In subject they are highly miscellaneous, comprising as they do all the books that could not be classed as theological in virtue of their principal contents. History, Poetry, Philosophy, Law, Natural Science, Medicine and Music represent fairly the main departments; and the mere enumeration of these shows how wide a field for errors and omissions is open to the cataloguer.

In truth, I have been confronted with many puzzles, and defeated by not a few. If this volume is used by an expert in alchemy (if such there be) or in medieval medicine, or in later Italian history, he will most likely be able to criticize me sharply—not, I hope, for giving him false information, but very probably for not telling him enough. I have instanced classes of books as to which I am conscious of ignorance; but it is equally likely that I have erred where the path was plainer. I shall be grateful to those who will set me right. A third volume, be it remembered, is to come, if I am spared to write it, and I shall not scruple to confess my mistakes when they are pointed out. I gladly borrow the words of a monk of Dover who wrote a careful catalogue of the books of his monastery: "Et uere non offendet compilantem, set diliget euidenter quicumque hanc matriculam adhuc multipliciter defectiuam in melius duxerit."

A few words as to the arrangement and provenance of the books in Class R may be not unwelcome. In the first two shelves are the accessions of recent date (none earlier than 1800). A very large proportion of these were the gifts of Mr Samuel Sandars, a generous benefactor alike to his College and to his University. The third and following shelves contain books the bulk of which are to be found in Bernard's Catalogi of 1697. The principal donor, so far as numbers are concerned, was Sir Henry Puckering alias Newton, for particulars of whose life the Dictionary of National Biography may be consulted. He gave his library to the College in 1691. Many of the manuscripts were inherited by him from his father, Sir Adam Newton (d. 1630), who was at various times tutor to Prince Henry, Dean of Durham, Secretary to the Council, and Secretary to the Marches of Wales.

Puckering was no collector of antiquities. Hardly any of his books are earlier than the seventeenth century: but his collection is made remarkable by the presence in it of the famous Milton manuscript. The numerous books connected with Prince Henry have also an interest of their own: and the considerable mass of Italian documents probably contains a good deal of interesting matter of which hitherto not much use has been made. The scribe of many of the Italian treatises was Jacopo di Castelvetro, who for some time taught Italian at Cambridge. His diary is among the Harleian Manuscripts (no. 3344).

Other donors who come before us in this Class for the first time are Thomas Whalley, Vice-Master of the College (1637), whose tastes appear to have run in the direction of alchemy, and John Wilson, Fellow (B.A. 1717), a collector of old medical books. The gifts of Whitgift and Nevile are less numerous than in Class B: but Willmer's assume greater importance, including as they do four precious volumes of English poetry.

Dame Anne Sadleir merits a special expression of gratitude for her gift of an Apocalypse, which must be ranked as one of the two finest in existence, and is certainly the most beautiful book in Cambridge.

In my account of the most copiously illustrated manuscript in this library—the Canterbury Psalter—I have departed from my usual custom of describing all the pictures I meet with in ancient books. This omission is, I think, amply justified by the following facts. The Psalter in question forms one of a group of four books (perhaps more) which all contain the same cycle of illustrations. The earliest of these is the famous Utrecht Psalter, the next in order that in the Harleian collection (no. 603), and the latest, one at Paris. They have been studied in conjunction by Dr Anton Springer[1], and will be fully treated in a work now appearing by Dr J. J. Tikkanen of Helsingfors (Die Psalterillustration im Mittelalter). Under these circumstances, and considering that a full description of the pictures would have filled a very large number of pages, I decided to call special attention to such of them only as showed a marked divergence from their archetype, namely, the Utrecht Psalter.

Comparatively few of the manuscripts in Class R can be traced to English monasteries. Very many of the books are quite modern, and others (especially those which treat of poetry, medicine, or alchemy) are of the kind which were most likely from the first in private hands. Still, we have books from Canterbury (including a Livy once the property of Thomas a Becket), Bury, Dover, Malmesbury, Winchester, and other smaller houses. I am particularly pleased at having been able to place the 'gromatic' manuscript (R. 15. 14) at St Augustine's, Canterbury. It would have been impossible to do so, had not I been in possession of a copy of the unpublished catalogue of that Library.

I am afraid that those who have used my first volume may have found the absence of an Index rather trying. I am convinced, however, that if the three volumes were each of them provided with an Index, the inconvenience would be very much greater; and it would be a lasting one instead of being, as I hope, only temporary.

I have appended to this Preface, besides the usual tables, and lists of donors, a copy of those entries in Sir Edward Stanhope's Memoriale (R. 17. 8) which throw light upon the provenance of manuscripts now in the Library. I have found them of great use to myself in the compilation of this catalogue, though they are by no means as complete as could be wished.

580. ALEXANDRI NECKAM LAUS SAPIENTIAE DIVINAE. { R. 3. 1 / 517

Vellum, $16\frac{1}{2} \times 10$, ff. 30 + 2, double columns of 53 lines. Cent. xv, early, well written, with decorative initials. Bound in vellum wrapper.

Given by Nevile. 2 fo. Viuere defunctis.

Collation: 1^8–3^8 4^{12} (wants 7–12): two paper leaves of cent. xvi?.

Contents:

Title, in red.
Incipit liber magistri Alexandri abbatis cirecestrie qui inscribitur laus sapiencie diuine.
Capitulum primum.
Gloria maiestas deitas sapiencia uirtus
Est in personis una colenda tribus.
Ends in the section ad libellum
Offer te tuto manibus pastoris honesti.
Est aliquid tanto posse placere uiro. (f. 30 b.)
This is Distinctio ix. 286 of the printed edition by T. Wright (Rolls Series: Alex. Neckam de naturis rerum).
There are at least six leaves cut out: but the remainder of the poem would only fill about a column. Wright, who has printed the poem, used only one MS. (Royal 8. E. ix), and did not know of this copy.
On the two paper leaves at the end, in a good hand of cent. xvi, is a poem . . . . . f. 31
Saepe mihi dubiam traxit sententia mentem
Quae Virtus magnete latens, ut mobile ferrum Efficiat: paleam moueat quo iure. Gagates etc.
Ending f. 32 b:
Cur madidis marmor lachrimis distillet et imbres
Affore vicinos falso sudore figuret.

581. GOWER'S POEMS. { R. 3. 2 / 335

Vellum, $14\frac{3}{4} \times 10\frac{1}{8}$, ff. 154, double columns of 46 lines. Cent. xv, in four hands, of which the first wrote quires 1, 7, 10, 11 partly, 13, 14: the second, quires 2, 3, 4: the third, 5, 6, 8, 11 partly, 12: the fourth, 9, 15—19.

Given by Nevile.

Collation: five quires lost: a^8–d^8 (+ 8*) e^8–t^8 (+ 8*).

Contents:

1. Confessio Amantis.
Begins imperfectly . . . . . f. 1
To whom the lordes doon homage
And after that of mariage.
(ii. 2686.)
On f. 84, a column is left blank, and lines 7499–7544 are omitted.

2. 148
The French Traitié pour essampler les amantz marietz, with the short Latin pieces Quis sit vel qualis, Est amor in glosa, Lex docet auctorum.

3. Gower's account of his three Poems 152
Quia vnusquisque prout a deo accepit aliis impertiri tenetur —Confessio Amantis specialiter sortitus est.

4. Nota consequentes carmen super multiplici viciorum pestilencia vnde tempore Ricardi secundi partes nostre specialiter inficiebantur . . . . . 152 b
Non excusatur qui verum non fateatur.
(twelve lines) ending
Ecce malignatur que modo causa datur.
In prose
Putruerunt et corrupte sunt cicatrices etc.
.....declarare propono. Anno Regni Regis Ric. secundi vicesimo.
Contra Demonis astuciam in causa lollardie.
Quod patet ad limen instanti tempore crimen
Describam primo quo pallent alta sub ymo.
Ends 154 a
Vir qui vult ideo pacem componere mundo Pacificet primo iura tenenda deo.
154 b is blank.

Mr G. C. Macaulay, who has kindly furnished me with some notes on this MS., tells me that it is "of the so-called second recension, and closely akin to MS. Bodley 294. In correctness of text and spelling it is fairly good."

582. Chaucer's Canterbury Tales.

R. 3. 3
532

Vellum, $13\frac{7}{8} \times 9\frac{3}{4}$, ff. 130, double columns of 42 lines. Cent. xv (after 1450), in a good, rather current hand. A pretty border of feathered work, with leaves in blue, pink and green (shaded), and burnished gold, on f. 1.

Given by ?

Collation: a^8–h^8 (wants 7)–n^8 (wants 8)–r^8 (wants 5–8).

Begins (without heading) with
The Prologue . . . . . f. 1
Whan that aprille with his his (sic) shoures soote.
At the end of the Squire's Tale (f. 38) a hand of cent. xvi has written Explicit secunda pars • / et sequitur Pars tertia
Appollo whirleth vp his chaire so highe,
Till y^t y^e god Mercurius howse he flye.
The reaste not to be fownde though sought in diuers places.
The leaves lost are (1) between ff. 62, 63. Friar's Tale
The carter spak oon and thou3t an other (1568), and Sompnour's Tale
Had prechid at a chirche in his manere (1714).
(2) between ff. 102, 103 in the Monke's Tale
On bothe his armes till he must dye (3700) to
Who shal men giue teres to compleine (3853).
(3) all after f. 130 in the Persone's Tale
(Tractus Luxurie) Lo my lady hou my lord hath take to me vnder.
(Student's Chaucer, p. 708.)

Professor Skeat in his edition of Chaucer's Works (IV. p. xiii) shortly describes this MS. as of the D-type, wanting Gamelyn, and having some Tales misplaced.

583. The Milton MS.

R. 3. 4

Paper, $12\frac{3}{8} \times 7\frac{1}{2}$ and $8\frac{1}{2} \times 6\frac{1}{2}$, ff. 24, varying numbers of lines to a page. For the most part in the Autograph of John Milton.

Given by Sir Henry Puckering.

Published in photographic facsimile in 1899, by the Cambridge University Press: under the editorship of W. Aldis Wright, M.A., Vice-Master, who has added an Introduction and a line-for-line reprint of the whole MS.

584. COLLECTIONS OF BEAUPRÈ BELL. { R. 3. 4* / vac.

590. THE INDIAN EMPEROUR. BY JOHN DRYDEN. { R. 3. 10 / 653

Paper, $11\frac{3}{4} \times 7\frac{1}{4}$, ff. 43, about 30 lines to a full page. Cent. xvii, well written.

Given by Puckering: on the first page is the name

Eliz. Puckering Newton 1665.

The text begins at once.

The Indian Emperour.
Act. 1^st^. Sc. 1^st^.
Enter Cortez Vasquez Pizarro with Spaniards and Indians.
Cortez: In what new happy Climate are wee throwne.
Ends
thus doubly blest with Conquest and with Loue. Exeunt.
Finis.

The play was first performed in 1665, and first printed in 1667, so that this is an early copy.

591. Cecco D' Ascoli.

{ R. 3. 11
? }

Paper, $11\frac{3}{4} \times 7\frac{3}{4}$, ff. 39, double columns; the fullest contain 6 stanzas of 6 lines. Cent. xv, well written. Lettered on the back Joh. Gower Poema.

Given by ? .

Collation: a^{12} b^{12} (+ f. 3 of quire c) c^{16} (wants 3 and 14?).

Contents: The Acerba of Cecco D' Ascoli.

Incipit liber Certe etatis. Cap^{m} primum tractat de ordinatione celorum et de eorum proprietatibus in uniuersali. Inquit Cicchus de asculis.

Vltra non segne piu la nostra luce.

Fuor dela superficia de quel primo.

The poem was printed 19 times up to and including the edition of 1546 which is the last (Tiraboschi v. p. 194).

In six-line stanzas, each chapter ending with one of eight lines; only the first three chapters have rubrics.

Apparently the leaf wrongly inserted in b is really the third leaf of quire c.

The poem ends on f. 36 b with an unfinished stanza of 3 lines

E cio ch*e* fato era uita in lui
E si come forma nela mente eterna
Se questa uita e luce de miseri nui.

Then in another hand, scribbled

Incipit liber capitulum cecus de asculis e qui si fese listoria de cecus de asculis.
(S)alue regina celorum Aue mater angelorum.

On 38 a and b are some rough sketches of figures in pencil, and on 39 b are a good many notes and rhymes in Italian and Latin.

One is

Qui sto Libero sie de Alonie?
figolo de s*er* chiame*n*to de Jaconio di chiament*is* da uerona.

592. Poems by Donne.

{ R. 3. 12
652 }

Paper, $11\frac{1}{2} \times 7$, pp. 237 + 11, written in several hands (pp. 1–237 in the first), 28 lines to a full page. Cent. xvii, clearly written.

Given by Puckering. The name E. Puckering is on p. 1.

In the volume is this note by Mr Henry Bradshaw.

"A collation of the contents of this volume (as far as the order of the pieces) and a verbal collation in a few instances, was made 21 and 23 January 1861 by the Rev^nd^ T. R. O'Flaherty of Capel near Dorking: as far as p. 50 was collated accurately with the edit^n^ of 1669 by Mr O'Flaherty in April 1663.

Done (pp.) 1–124, 183–200, 224–237. om. 50–69."

There is no title. I have in most cases given the names of the pieces from Grosart's edition. The MS. rarely gives any.

593. William of Nassington's Speculum Vitae. { R. 3. 13 / 385

Vellum, $11\frac{1}{2} \times 8\frac{3}{4}$, ff. 2 + 85, double columns of 44 lines. Cent. xv, in a good small hand.

Given by Willmer. At the top of f. 1 of text an inscription has been cut away.

Collation: $i^{2} \| a^{12}$–e^{12} f^{14} g^{14} (wants 12–14 blank).

Contents:

f. 1 is a waste copy of the first leaf of the text, perhaps in the same hand as the real first leaf: it has 48 lines in a column, f. 2 is blank.

Text

Almighty god in trinite
In wham anly ar persones thre, ffadir and son and holigast yat er a god als we trow mast.

This page has blue and red initials and a border in blue and red.

Ends 85 b

Of special grace yᵗ hym sal wisse ye redy way to heuen blisse,
To whilk blisse he all vs bryng yat on croys for vs wold hyng.
Amen (thrice).

The work is translated from a Latin treatise by John Waldeby: MSS. of it are not uncommon.

594. Piers Plowman.

{ R. 3. 14
{ 263

Vellum, $11\frac{1}{4} \times 6\frac{3}{4}$, ff. 3 + 73, 42 lines to a page. Cent. xiv, in a good somewhat running hand.

Given by Nevile. 2 fo. And nouȝt for loue.

Collation: 1^2 ‖ a^{12} (+ 1*)–f^{12} g^2 (wants 2 blank).

In this volume is the following note by Professor Skeat:

"This MS of Piers Plowman contains a text made up of two different versions of the poem, viz. of the first or earliest version, and of the third or latest.

The portion containing the earliest version (all but the Last Passus) is; from the beginning to the end of Passus secundus de dowel—at which point the early versions end in most MSS.

See the words

Passus tercius de dowel: Breuis oratio penetrat celum on f. 52 a.

The remainder consists of the latter part of the third version: the junction being made (as well as it could be) by half of the quotation Breuis oratio etc.

An evident indication of this junction is afforded by noting that Passus tercius de dowel is only 17 lines long, and is followed by Passus secundus de dobet (where dobet is an error for dowel)—this Passus secundus being reckoned according to the system of numbering usual in the third or latest version."

In his edition of the poem (II. p. lxvi) he describes it thus: "mixed text, group c. The oldest MS. of the largest group."

ff. i, ii, iii a are blank.

On iii b at the top left corner is the number · xxiij ·, evidently a Library mark. And the middle of the page is occupied by a coloured drawing (xiv) of a man ploughing with a yoke of oxen; while a second man plies the goad. Above this in red is written

God spede þe plouȝ and sende us korne I now.

This drawing is reproduced in Wright's edition, and also in Jusserand's Piers Plowman.

In a somer sesoun whanne softe was the sonne.

Ending f. 73 b

And sipe he gradde aftir grace til I gan awake.
Explicit.

595. CHAUCER ETC. { R. 3. 15 / 270

Paper, $10\frac{7}{8} \times 8$, ff. 316, 30 lines to a page normally. Cent. xv, xvi, in several hands, all fairly good.

It seems to have belonged to Abp Parker. The foliation is in red chalk.

Collation: 1^4 (supply of cent. xvi) $2^{2?}$ (1 gone) 3^2 4^2 5^6 (wants 4) 6^4 7^{12} (1 canc.) 8^{12} (misbound?) 9^{12} 10^8 11^{12}–16^{12} (wants 8) 17^{14} 18^{12}–21^{12} (wants 8–12) 22^{12} $23^?$ (3 left) $24^?$ (5 left) 25^{12}–32^{12} (wants 12) || 33^{12} (xvith cent.).

   Explicit Tractatus Galfridi Chaucer de penitencia ut dicitur pro fabula Rectoris.
   Followed by the Retractation.
   See Skeat's Chaucer IV. p. xii. "Some leaves are missing, so that the Canons Yeoman, Prioress and Sir Thopas are lost. Of the D-type, without Gamelyn."

III. In the hand of I., the title cut away, Piers Plowman's Crede.
   Cros and Curteis Crist þis bygynnynge spede.

Ends on the twelfth leaf

þ^t þei maie wynnen þe lif, þ^t euer schal lesten. Amen.

This is the best MS. of the Crede; Professor Skeat edited the text from it in 1867. In his opinion it is a careful copy of a possibly xivth cent. MS.

596. Sir Philip Sidney's Metrical Version of the Psalms. { R. 3. 16 / 569

Paper, $10\frac{3}{4} \times 7\frac{5}{8}$, ff. 302, about 24 lines on a page. Cent. xvi, well written. The page is surrounded with red lines.

Given by W. Lynnett, S.T.B., Fellow, in 1664. His name is on the binding (W. Lynnet, T.C.).

Title-page.

The / Psalmes of David / metaphrased with sundry / kindes of verse / By the noble and famous gent / Sir Philip Sidney / knight.

The first page of the text has an ornament at top in pen and ink.

Psalme .i. Beatus vir

He blessed is who neither loosely treades the straieng stepps, as wicked councell leades.

Ps. 150 ends on p. 301.

Conclud by all, that aire or life enfould:
Let high Jehoua, highly be extould.
Finis. / Sir Ph. Sydney k^t (added).

On p. 302 is this note in a contemporary hand.

I have perused this metaphrase of the Psalmes by that Worthy, whose happy Meditations may yield others content, and a precedent worthy imitation.

Which I desire may be published in Print.

606. Ovidii Metamorphoses.

{ R. 3. 26
vac.

Vellum, 9 × 5, ff. 108, 45 lines on a page. Cent. xiii (early).

Given by John Laughton, M.A., Librarian.

Collation: one or more quires gone | a^8–n^8 o^4.

Many of the leaves are much torn. There are a good many notes marginal and interlinear in a xiiith cent. hand.

Quire a begins

Obstitit infelix aditumque obsedit erinnis (IV. 489),

and goes down to V. 404,

Excutit obscura tinctas rubigine hēnas.

Quire b begins III. 506

Naiades et sectos fratri imposuere capillos ending IV. 488

Territus est athamas tectoque exire parabant.

A note of xiiith cent. on lower margin says

Obstitit infelix retro per duos codices (i.e. two quires back) showing that the misplacement of the quires is of long standing.

Quire c begins with V. 405

Perque lacus altos et olentia sulphure fertur.

and after this there seems to be no displacement. The true order of the quires is therefore b, a, c.

Almost the whole of the last leaf (108) is gone. Enough remains to shew that there was an Explicit and several scribbles on the verso. There is a bit of a fly-leaf, also with scribbles, including some 'word-squares.'

The next section is Ecclesia quandoque templum materialiter dicitur etc.
ending with the verses,
Templum • conuentum iustorum siue malorum
Reddituum bona • prelatos ecclesia signat.
The three quires of this are misplaced: the first, containing the beginning of the tract, is placed third and begins
Scire distinguere sophistarum ampullas . . . 130 while the end of the whole is on 129 b.
—uel idolorum seruitus.

VIII. Doctrinale Alexandri de Villa Dei 137

Venit ab eua ve • ve quia tollis ave.

168 b is blank.

610. Lucani Pharsalia.

{ R. 3. 30
{ vac.

Vellum, $8\frac{1}{2} \times 5\frac{3}{8}$, ff. 109, 41 lines to a page. Cent. xii, beautifully written with fine initials.

On the cover is:

Hoc amoris pignus SS. Trin. Coll. Cant. D.D., Gulielmus Greaves A.M. A° Salut. MDCCV.

I am fairly confident that the hand of the MS. is that of Christ Church, Canterbury: but there is no mark: the top edges have been cut. 2 fo. sollicitare.

Collation: ※^{4} (+ 1) | a^8–n^8.

On the first leaves is nothing save (1). On 1 b the late mark W. 8. and on 5 b a xvith cent. couplet, of which most of the first line is cut off:

honore
Illius a manibus sit procul iste liber.

Text begins on f. 6 (wrongly marked 9).

There is a splendid initial B, mostly in blue and green on red ground, of interlaced and foliage-work. It contains also on L. figures of two warriors in shirts of mail and peaked helmets on horseback with spears, and a man fighting a lion: a nude corpse below. The first six lines of the poem are written in blue, red and green.

Contents:

Lib. II.	Dragon and lions in initial	17 b
Lib. III.	Archer and dragon: large human figure and horned beast	26 b
Lib. IV.	Small initial: beasts	35
Lib. V.	Initial S composed of two beasts biting at a ball in the centre	44
Lib. VI.	Contains human figure and beasts	54

Lib. VII. Dragon: smaller 64

Lib. VIII. Dragon: rather rougher work 75

Lib. IX. Dragon and ?lion fighting, smaller beast below: done in red on yellow ground with blue centre . . 84 b

Lib. X. Dragon: less good 98

Text ends on 105 a

Obsedit muris calcantem menia magnum
Finit Lucani decimus liber iste prophani

(both lines in capitals).

The last few leaves are blank except for the following:

On f. 106 a some notes in the original hand

a. on participial constructions: 3 lines.

b. on Pyr. and its derivatives ending with pyramella • le • • i • billet.

c. on Lixa and other words, ending
Saga sage uel sagana • ne • i • strie.
Silev • eris • i • sout.

d. written smaller
Robaldellus • i • fustan^{i}.
Placenta • te • fladun.

No other vernacular words occur in these notes.

On f. 109 b some faint late scribbles of xvth and xvith cent.

611. SOPHOCLIS TRAGOEDIAE.

{ R. 3. 31

Paper, $8\frac{3}{8} \times 5\frac{1}{2}$, ff. 98, 21–23 lines to a page. In at least three hands of cent. xiv, xv (early ?) and xvi early.

Ex dono Reverendi Doctissimique D^{ris} Duport Decani Petroburg. huius Coll^{ii} nuper Vice-Magistri. A° 1667.

Collation: $a^{4?}$ b^{8} c^{8} (+ 8*) || d^{8} (wants 1, 2) $e^{8?}$ (wants 7, 8: 6 supplied) | f^{8} g^{8} h^{4} (+ 4*) | i^{8}–n^{8} o^{4}.

Quires a–c are the latest: quire d in a good and earlier hand (xv), quire e less good, quires f–h in a large ugly hand, quires i–u in the hand of d, quire o in a larger hand.

The MS. has been collated by Professor Jebb for his edition of Sophocles.

Various names occur scribbled in the book: in the earlier leaves names of Biblical and classical personages, and on 13 a Johannes Gibbonius: on the last page, Tho: Throckmorton.

Contents:

1. Τοῦ Σοφοκλέους Αἴας μαστιγοφόρος . . . . . f. 2
With ὑπόθεσις (1 b) and Scholia marginal and interlinear, beginning:
Οἰκείως ἔχουσιν οἱ παρακείμενοι ἀντὶ ἐνεστῶτος.
Ends f. 34 b: τέλος τοῦ αἴαντος μαστιγοφόρου.
2. Σοφοκλέους Ἠλέκτρα . . . . . 34 b

αὐτὴ δὲ μήτηρ ἀγχόναις διώλετο.
On 68 a is a rude picture of the Sphinx with four legs (clawed), wings springing low down by the forelegs, long thick neck and chubby human head, the tail a serpent.
Over it is the name κωνσταντίνος ὁ καὶ παδιάτης.
Text, with ornament in red above, begins on 68 b.
Marginal scholia at first fairly copious, beginning
Ἀνατροφὴ ἦν ἀνατρέφῃ τίς τινα
Ends f. 98 b:
τέλος οἰδιπόδος τυράννου.

I. Headed in a xviith cent. hand: Marcellus . . . f. 1
Life of St John the Almoner in French verse.

Li siecle ueit mult en declin
De vre en autre tent a sa fin
Del amender ne ad nul semblant
De jur en jur ueil en peirant.

The next section (1 b) begins by praising alms

Mult est almodre grant uertu
Dunt a pechur poet uenir pru and speaks of St John the Almoner.

f. 102 is a contemporary insertion, with the recto blank, of a portion of text omitted.

Ends f. 121 b

Seint Johan si pleisir uus est
Mustrez si mun trauail uus plest
En ceo me rendez mun seruise
Que eschaper peusse del Juise
V la uengance serrat prise.
de qu*a*nque feit iert cuntre assise.
Si dunc me feites guarantise
Bien me aurez rendu mun seruise.

II. A French metrical version of the Clementine Recognitions 122
In a somewhat larger hand.

Li clert de scole ki apris unt
Tant que aukes entendant sunt
Mult se peinent de liures faire
E de sentences en lung traire.

The next section (122 b) is Ki veut oir de seint clement

Dunt il fud nez et de qel gent
De sun pere e de sa mere
E de ses freres en quel maniere

Li uns des autres departi furent
E cument puis se recunuerunt
A seint pierre cument tornerent
Par ki tuz se entretruuerunt
Ki tut cest sauer uuldra
Par cest rumanz bien le aprendra.
Uns liures est • meis poi usez:
Ki liure clement est apelez
E si ad un autre nun:
Petri itinerarium.

The translator says that he has not inserted all the disputations, and that he has transposed the order of the story a little. Accordingly he begins not, as the first book of the Recognitions, with Clement's own reflections, but with the story of his parents.

Quant nostre sire iesu crist
Charn en la seinte uirgine prist
E uint en terre pur la salu
De tut le mund ki perdu fu
En cel tens esteit a rume
Vn bien riche e puissant hume
Apele fud faustinien
E en sa lei esteit paien.

The story of the Recognitions ends (with the episcopate of Peter at Antioch) on f. 328. Then follows the ordination of Clement, and Peter's charge to him, and to the people, which is of great length.

Next follows (f. 348 b) the Passion of Peter and Paul, which does not get beyond the dispute of Peter, Paul and Simon Magus before Nero. After the incident of the dogs and the bread (f. 335 b) the poem ends unfinished with these lines

Pierres dist Symun me ad mult veu
E de mun cunseil ad mult séú
A lé me est suuent a cuntraire
Que en palestine • que en cesaire,
E que en Judéé sun pais
Kar cuntre mei se est pose ad pris.

The rest of f. 356 a is blank, and also 356 b, 357.

III. In a contemporary hand.
The Passion of Peter and Paul by Marcellus . . . 358
(see Lipsius Acta Apostolorum Apocrypha).
Cum uenisset Paulus Romam conuenerunt ad eum omnes iudei.

The first fly-leaf is a waste leaf of another copy by one of the scribes of the main MS. with the heading and 14 lines of the beginning of liber ii.

f. 1 of text has a fine border, and initial of Christ in blue robe standing full-face on water (?) and blessing. Patterned gold ground.

f. 133 has a similar border, and initial of William I. crowned, with orb and sword, standing. Gold ground as before.

f. 241 has a similar border, and decorative initial.

Incipit prologus in librum qui flores historiarum intitulatur . . f. 1
Temporum summam lineam.

Liber I. ends f. 132: in secundam partem resecamus.
Expl. liber primus. Inc. lib. secundus.

132 b is blank.

Liber II. begins in a different hand.

Inc. liber secundus de coronacione regis Willelmi primi . . 133
Anno domini M^o. lxvij dux normannie.

Ends f. 240:

Coronacio regis Edwardi.
Anno gratie supradicto in ecclesia Westmon̄.
Ends f. 260 (258) b
Scocia concordiam ecclesia libertatem.
Explicit.

The MS. is described by Dr Luard in his edition of the Flores (Rolls Series) I. xx, xxi. The symbol in that edition is T.

636. Chronological Roll. { R. 4. 3 / 400

Vellum, a roll folded and bound as a volume, measuring $13\frac{3}{8} \times 7$, in varying numbers of columns. Bound in white skin over boards: clasps gone. Cent. xv late (Edward IV.).

Given by Th. Whalley, D.D., Vice-Master, 1637.

The names of the persons in the genealogical tables are written in red circles. There are no pictures.

The text begins in three columns.

1. Considerans hystorie sacre prolixitatem necnon et difficultatem.
2. Adam in agro damasceno formatus.
3. Prima etas mundi fuit ab adam usque ad noe.

The chronology goes down to Edward IV. The text ends with a notice of him.

Edwardus quartus filius et heres Ricardi nuper ducis Eboraci et Cecilie uxoris eius, post decessum patris sui fuit dux Eboraci. Et coronatus est in regem anglie apud Westmonasterium xxviij° die Junii. anno domini M°. cccclxj°.

Henry VI., it is noted, was buried at 'Cherchessey,' so that the date of the MS. is after 1471.

637. TITI LIVII HISTORIARUM LIBRI XXI–XXX. { R. 4. 4 / 214

Vellum, 13 × 9⅜, ff. 117, double columns of 42 lines. Cent. xii, in two fine hands, the first small and of non-English aspect, the second larger and blacker.

Given by Whitgift. 2 fo. litis erat sator.

From Christ Church, Canterbury: on f. 89 at the top is written (xv)

Titus liuius. Ecclesie christi cantuar.

and a similar inscription has been cut off the top of f. 1.

This is no doubt the copy mentioned among the Libri S. Thome (Edwards, p. 183).

Secunda pars Titi Livi.

See also Ingram, no. 154.

Secunda pars Titi Liuii. 2 fo. litis erat sator.

I have no doubt that it belonged to St Thomas a Becket, and I should conjecture that he obtained it through John of Salisbury.

Pasted into the volume is a letter from Mr H. J. Roby to Mr Aldis Wright, dated Dulwich College, Oct. 6, 1864, from which the following extracts may be given.

"Mr Bond of the British Museum, to whom I shewed the MS., told me that Sir F. Madden and himself both thought that it was written by an English hand towards the close of the 12th century, say A.D. 1180. Bond expressed great admiration of the writing."

Mr Roby goes on to say that there is great similarity between this MS. and the portion of the Codex Erfurtensis now at Berlin, which contains Cicero pro Milone.

"Madvig (Emend. ad Liv. p. 199) says that all the MSS. of this decade of Livy are derived from the Codex Puteanus (a Paris MS. once the property of Claude du Puy), or from one precisely like it. Madvig's reasons apply to your MS. and seem decisive. The Codex Puteanus is an uncial MS. of the 8th century, and has no space between the words. Your MS. frequently has the right letters, but divided wrongly into words.....

"I have collated carefully the xxi[st] book and that part of the xxxth which is lost from the Cod. Put., besides chapters here and there. It does not appear to me that much would be gained by a collation of the whole. But at present I have chiefly attended to the mere mechanical collation without weighing the value of the readings."

Collation: a^8–h^8 | i^8–p^8 (wants 3, 4, and 8 blank).

The hand changes at quire i.

Contents:

Titi liuii ab urbe condita liber .xxi. incipit.
In parte operis mei • licet michi prefari quod . . . f. 1

The books are numbered in the margin in a hand of cent. xv from lib. 11 to lib. 20, showing that in cent. xv nothing was known to intervene between book x and book xx.

The two leaves cut out between ff. 114, 115, contained the text between xxx. 21. auxilia in his pauiam traicissent cc. et l[ta] auri octing. and xxx. 30. ad cannas id tu hodie.

Ends f. 117 b col. 2.
cum suis diab*us* item legionibus in etruria.
(xxx. 41 sub initio.)

The rest of the column is blank: the rest of chapter 41, and chapters 42–45, wanting.

The pictures are fairly good, but later in style than I should have expected at this date. Many have been cut out, and there are blank spaces for a good many. Those that remain are:

1. f. 4 b. (verso of first remaining leaf)
A group of five Roman soldiers.

2. f. 6 a. Red flourished ground. Three men on L., one about to take a bowl offered by one on R. Catiline making his accomplices drink blood and wine.

3. f. 7 b. Group of six men, very bad. The Senate.

4. f. 11 b. Cato addressing a crowd on R.

5. f. 18 b. Warriors set fire to an arched portico. (Pompey burning the Temple of Jerusalem.)

6. f. 21 b. A battle scene. (Caesar's first victory over the 'Ulchosi' or Turigones.)

7. f. 23 b. A similar battle.

8. f. 24 b. Two ambassadors in long robes and trains before Caesar.

9. f. 28 b. A bridge over a river, with a gate on it guarded by two horsemen. Two men fight on the bank. The enemy are Belgae.

10. f. 30 b. Two Romans repulsing three others (Gauls).

11. f. 41. A battle before a towered city of brick.

12. f. 42 b. By a worse artist. Caesar riding with 3 companions by a river sees a female figure in the air—the genius of Rome (Lucan lib. I.).

13. f. 45 b. Lucan lib. II. Rome lamenting, represented as a large woman standing in a towered city. Badly done.

This is the last picture. Another has been cut out on f. 70, and the arms described above remain on f. 74. In the story of Thebes no pictures were intended.

The original hand has prepared the chronology down to 1619, but I think has only made historical entries as far as Henry VI. A nearly contemporary hand has continued with Edward IV., and a xvith cent. hand has carried it on to the accession of Elizabeth.

There are rude drawings in this volume, viz.

f. 1 b. 1. God standing by a globe in which are seen angels above, and devils falling below.
2. God by the globe divided into land and water.
3. God standing by trees and water.
4. God measuring with compasses: globe with sun, moon and stars.
5. Creation of birds and fishes.
6. In four compartments. Creation of beasts: of Adam: of Eve. Expulsion.
7. God seated amidst angels. (The Seventh Day.)
8. f. 2. Adam with spade on L. Eve with distaff on R. Each takes a coat from the hand of an angel seen in a cloud in the centre.

There are conventional pictures of cities, Noah's Ark, Babel, the Temple. Burning of the temple f. 35 b.

9. Birth of the Virgin f. 41 b.
10. The Crucifixion with the Virgin and St John . . f. 42 b

Text begins imperfectly dominum ihesum assistere causam aduentus sui blande scicitantem.

(Hardy II. 157, ed. Hearne 1727.) Johannes Glastoniensis, p. 86.

The hand seems to change with p. 187.

On p. 198 in the margin is a slight sketch of a rood, with Mary and John—that erected by Abbot Walter de Taunton. On p. 199 is a little sketch of a church (? the shrine of St Dunstan). And on p. 207 is another sketch of a church with the letters S. D. (S. Dunstanus), and below 'Adam incepit.' The text speaks of the shrine of St Dunstan being enriched by Adam de Sobbury.

The text of Joh. Glast. as printed by Hearne ends on p. 212 of this MS. (p. 272 Hearne) and then follows a list of the monks who entered under Walter de Monyton.

At p. 215 begins another good xivth cent. hand in single lines

Hic sunt ostensa Walteri de Monytona.

Que sunt impensa per eum pulcherima dona.

A very pretty pen-work initial and border.

7 ff. ending with his epitaph in another hand.

The rest of the book is in more of a charter hand, beginning at p. 233

Cum sit necessarium antiquitatis monumenta.

Ending imperfectly with p. 264 in an inventory of kitchen utensils.

Item III mortaria marmorea red.

715. AUTOGRAPH ANNALS OF WILLIAM CAMDEN. { R. 5. 20
559

Paper, mostly $12\frac{5}{8} \times 8\frac{1}{2}$, but with some smaller sheets.

Given by John Hacket, Bp of Lichfield.

The principal contents are the Annales of Camden from 1603–1623, in the author's autograph. They were printed by Thomas Smith in Camdeni et illustrium Virorum Epistolae 1691 (after p. 401). In the Preface he says that the autograph MS. was given to the College by Bp Hacket. He himself used a transcript by Dugdale (in the Ashmole collection) collated with the original for him by John Laughton.

A particular account of the contents of this volume will be given in an Appendix.

716. (Th. Key.) De Antiquitate Academiae Oxoniensis. { R. 5. 21 / 256

Paper, $12\frac{1}{4} \times 8$, ff. 124. Cent. xvi, fairly well written.

Given by Nevile. Lettered on the back 'Asserii Annales.'

On the fly-leaves are the beginnings of an Index Rerum, and the following note.

De Controuersia hac vide quae adservantur in Bibliotheca Caiensi inter MSS^{os} n (?no. 249), qui est liber omnium MSS. ultimus, item quae habentur inter libros MSS. M^{ri} Moore eidem Collegio legatos.

Vide quae in Cottoniana Bibliotheca extant.

Asserii Annales habentur in hac Bibliotheca.

Text begins:

Scripsi ante biennium, Candide Lector, rogatu amici cuiusdam mei libellum seu commentariolum quendam cui titulum praefixi Assertio antiquitatis Oxoniensis academiae.

(The Assertio was printed in 1568 by Bynneman and in 1574 by John Day.)

Ends f. 113 —fundationem colligit.

There follow Notes in another hand about Gildas, as an authority for the antiquity of Cambridge . . . . . f. 113*b*

III. ff. 83, 32 lines to a page. Cent. xi, well written, in several hands.

At the top of f. 1 in red chalk is written Matthaeus (Parker), and over this in ink, of cent. xvi, probably by one of Abp Parker's scribes:

Hic ipsus liber est quem Aluredus Rex misit ad Ecclesiam Syreburnensem, quem et transtulit è pastorali Gregorii Latine in Anglicum.

Whence it may be perhaps fair to conclude that the book came to Parker from Sherborne.

Collation: 1^8–10^8 $11^{4?}$ (wants 4 blank).

The earlier and later leaves have suffered from damp: but none of the writing is really illegible.

Eighteen blank leaves follow.

Of this MS. Bishop Stubbs (Gervase of Canterbury, Rolls ed^n II. p. x) speaks at length. It is only in a very limited sense the work of Gervase. Extracts from his Gesta are incorporated in it, and only the basis of the earlier portion of the history is Gervase. The Trinity MS. "was seen and used by Leland, who attributed it all to Gervase, on the strength of the occurrence of his name in the prologue. In his Collectanea (i. 257 sqq.) he gives under the name of Gervase, copious extracts which are really the work of John of Loudon or of some intermediate writer.... The Trinity MS. coincides most exactly with the Corpus MS. (no. 438) down to the death of Harold; from that point the two MSS. are altogether different. There can be no doubt that the Corpus MS. represents the genuine work, the Trinity MS. an early fragment only."

730. Henry of Huntingdon. { R. 5. 42 / 158

Given by Whitgift. 2 fo. dicitur reuocauit or nobilissimis.

The name of Robert de Populton which occurs on f. 1 (see below) gives a faint clue to the origin of the MS.: for the Poppletons (Upper and Nether) are just outside York. The book may have come from St Mary's Abbey, York. Frater Rob. de Populton appears as the giver of a Bible to Hulne Abbey near Alnwick, in the priorate of Th. de Populton. Robert need not have been a monk of Hulne, but a friend or relative of Thomas. See Catt. Vett. Dunelm. p. 132. The same name occurs, as that of the scribe, in the Paris MS. 4126 (Colbert. 3120) formerly Lord Burghley's. So Dr Liebermann (and Hardy II. 170). This MS. contains several tracts relating to Scotland. In one colophon are the words: Ora pro Popiltoun qui me compilauit Eboraci. See the Rolls edition of Henry of Huntingdon by T. Arnold, p. xli.

A table of the statutes contained in it precedes the text.

733. LIVES OF THE ROMAN EMPERORS BY SEBASTIAN FRANCK. { R. 5. 45

Paper, $9\frac{1}{8} \times 7$, pp. 298, closely written. Cent. xvii.

Given by Frederick Martin, B.A., in 1827.

The donor notes:

"Some account of this MS. occurs in the Retrospective Review, Old Series, vol. xiv."

Another note stuck into the book says:

"I. 335 of Haslewood's edition of Drunken Barnabee 1820 mentions Brathwait's Lives of the Roman Emperors, London 1636, duodecimo. Haslewood transcribes most of the title page.

quaere where (sic) Franck's MS. in Trin. Coll. Lib. R. is the original MS. in Brathwait's writing. Haslewood's portrait of him gives his signature."

On p. 1 is the name Bernard Lens.

On this MS. Bishop Stubbs in the Rolls edition of the Gesta Regum, p. lxxix, says that it belongs to the second series of MSS. classed by him as B: the symbol employed to denote it in his edition is Bq.

740. Eulogium Historiarum etc. { R. 7. 2 / 397

Vellum, $9\frac{1}{8} \times 6\frac{1}{8}$, ff. 335 (15 + 129 + 191), pages numbered to 666, wrongly, 30 lines to a page. Cent. xiv, in a curious, ugly, but plain hand.

Given by Willmer. 2 fo. xl. Herodes or compilacionem.

Probably from Malmesbury: events connected with that house receive special prominence throughout. Mr F. S. Haydon in his edition of the text in the Rolls Series advocates the view that this is the author's autograph, on what seem to be good grounds.

Said by Mr Haydon to be in a different hand from the rest of the volume. But the writing is, I believe, really the same, though it may have been done either earlier or later than the rest, and subsequently inserted in this place. It consists of the Gesta Pilati (or Gospel of Nicodemus), to which are added the Vindicta Salvatoris and an appendix of fact and legend about the destruction of Jerusalem.

Liber II., an erasure of several lines at the top of the first page 127–198

Liber III. 199–286

A blank leaf (235 a) at the end.

Liber IV. 287–392

At p. 393 intervenes the tract called

Vade mecum in tribulatione, by Johannes de Rupe Scissa.

Ending p. 413.

Then follows

De remediis tocius tribulacionis 413

On the descent of William I from the English Kings . . 416

An extract from Augustine de Civitate dei lib. xxi, etc. . 422

Liber V. 423–649

Contents:

1. Inc. prefacio venerabilis bede presbiteri in libro ecclesiastice historie gentis anglorum . . . . . f. 1
   Gloriosissimo regi Ceolf(?)olfo.
   The page is bordered in the most exquisite style with oak-leaves and interlacing designs, largely on a punctured gold ground. At the top, in a medallion is a female head. On the R. are birds and a half-human monster playing the fiddle. At bottom, on R. a draped man wrestling with a lion (Samson). On L. Solomon on horseback, a frightened hound couching before him, beckoning to Marcolph who is on L. mocking him in a grotesque attitude. On the L. side of the border are more birds. The initial is rubbed. It represents Bede writing at a desk: punctured gold ground.
   ff. 2 and 3, containing the capitula and beginning of Book I., are transposed.
   Book I. has a fine decorative initial and partial border with grotesques.
   Book II. Initial with bust of an old man, white hair and beard, hooded, very curious: gold ground . . . 34*a* Book III. Decorative initial 61*b*
   Book IV. ,, ,, ... 95*b*
   Book V. ,, ,, very fine 133*b*
   Ends f. 166*b* with the List of Bede's works
   —fructum pie intercessionis inueniam. Amen.
2. De uita et fine uenerabilis bede presbiteri et de diligentia scribendi et dictandi usque ad finem 167
   Dilectissimo in christo doctori Cuthwino.
   Good decorative initial and partial border.
   —inerudicio lingue facit.
   The passage in English occurs in the text.
3. De corporibus sanctorum que in anglia requiescunt: qui fuerunt: et in quibus locis eorum corpora sepeliuntur in sequentibus dicetur 168
   In nomine d. n. I. C. beatus augustinus a b. gregorio romane urbis episcopo ad predicandum genti anglorum in britanniam Ends: sancta merepenna abbatissa in loco qui dicitur rumesige prope amnem taerstan requiescit.

742. W. Malmsburiensis de gestis Pontificum. { R. 7. 4 / 272

Vellum and paper, $9\frac{1}{2} \times 6\frac{1}{4}$, ff. 104 + 4, mostly double columns of 32 lines. Cent. xv late, xvi, in three hands.

Given by Nevile. 2 fo. Quid enim.

Collation: 1^4 2^8–10^8 11^7 (5 left): the rest paper.

Contents:

1. Lists of Archbishops and Bishops of the sees of England . f. 1
   The Abps of Canterbury are given as far as Robert Winchelsea: a slightly later hand adds Simon Islip.
2. Inc. prologus libri primi Willelmi de gestis pontificum anglo-(rum) 5
   Prima sedes episcoporum
   —sequentur ordine.
   De Cantuar. archiepiscopis 5*b*
   Cantuarie sedit primus Augustinus.
   Towards the end of quire 10 the hand gets smaller, and quire 11 has 53 lines to a column.
   The vellum portion of the MS. ends f. 76*b* (80*b*) electis episcopis Gisone Well.
   The rest is on paper of cent. xvi, 34 lines to a page, perhaps in a Parkerian hand.
   et waltero herefordensi
   —solus deo vacans.
   Ends f. 104 (108*b*).
   There follow three paragraphs.
   Anno ab incarn. domini M.cc.lix regni autem H. regis filius regis Johannis.

Mr Hamilton in his preface to the Rolls edition of the Gesta Pontificum, p. xxiv, says that the conclusion, on paper, is copied from Ff. 1. 25 in the University Library.

743. Bedae Historia Ecclesiastica. { R. 7. 5 / 282

Vellum, $9\frac{1}{2} \times 7\frac{7}{8}$, ff. 252, 23 lines to a page. Cent. x, xi, in a fine bold minuscule.

It belonged to Abp Parker, whose name is on the fly-leaf in red chalk. 2 fo. (text) mo ut diximus.

It was collated by Professors Mayor and Lumby for their edition of Books III. and IV. of the History, and is described by them as C^3 on p. 414.

Collation: a^4 (1 and 4 of cent. xvi, 2 and 3 original) || 1^8 (wants 1 blank ?)–6^8 (+ 1 between 1 and 2)–10^8 (+ 1 between 4 and 5)–19^8 (+ 2 after 1)–30^8 (7 canc.) 31^8 (wants 7, 8 blank), leaves very badly numbered in Cent. xvi.

Contents:

1. Inc. capitula • hec continentur in libro primo ecclesiastice historie gentis anglorum (in red capitals) . . . . f. ii (4)
   These capitula, like others later on in the book, are in a hand of cent. xii (early).
   On f. iii b, iv a (5 b, 6) a Parkerian hand has added a list of facts not mentioned in the capitula of the five books.
2. In nomine domini. Incipit prologus beati Bedan pr(esbyteri) 7
   In red rustic capitals.
   Gloriosissimo regi Ceoluulfo —mandare studuimus.
   The paragraph (Praeterea—inueniam), which should end the preface, is in this MS., as in very many others, placed at the end of Lib. V. See Mayor and Lumby, l. c.
   Explicit prologus.
   Incipit liber • primus • Historiae anglorum • aecclesiasticae . 8 b
   Britannia oceani insula.
   At the end of Lib. I. a new leaf is inserted (of cent. xii) on which the capitula of Lib. II. and the last five lines of Lib. I. are written. This is f. 46.
   The last five lines of Lib. I. as written by the original scribe are erased at the top of f. 47 and a new heading to Lib. II. written in:
   Inc. liber secundus ęcclesiastice hystorię gentis anglorum 47
   The hand gets larger in the course of this book, and then gives way to a smaller hand with a very decided slope.
   The rubric at the end of Lib. II. and the leaf (82) with the capitula of Lib. III. and the heading and initial of Lib. III. are of cent. xii.
   The sloping minuscule continues to f. 107 a. In the fourth line it gives way to a round upright hand, which gets very large on some leaves, e.g. 112.
   The capitula to Lib. IV. have not had to be inserted (130 b). They are in this same round hand. The rubrics in red rustic capitals.
   The same hand continues through Lib. IV., getting very large on ff. 158 etc.
   Capitula to Lib. V. 187

f. 237 is a slip inserted by the original scribe (?) to repair an omission. The fluctuations of hands in the quire (29) are very odd.

ff. 248 and following are undoubtedly by the scribe of the capitula to Libb. I., II.

Lib. V. ends with the list of Bede's works and the last paragraph of the Preface (see above).

—pie intercessionis inueniam.

Expl. lib. quintus Ecclesiastice hyst. gent. angl. Ven. Bede presbiteri 249

Lindisfarne dicitur insula quę a uulgo halig ealond appellatur. In mari sita est, etc.

It is a paragraph to explain Bede's non-mention of Durham.

Ends 249*b* (anno 735) sedes episcopalis in dunhelmum translata est.

Then follow, in a hand of cent. xvi, notes of the nine lessons for St Oswald taken out of Bede, with reference to their place in the text.

250*a* is blank.

On 250*b*, 251*a* in a hand of cent. xii.

Ricardi succ. eius. Omnia possibilia sunt credenti. (Mc. ix. 23.)

These prognostics are evidently the Sortes Biblicae taken from the opening of the Gospel-book at the consecration of each of these prelates.

The verso (covered with scribbles) is stuck to a fly-leaf.

I have little doubt, from the paragraph about Lindisfarne, and the notes for St Oswald's lessons, that the book was in a northern monastery: but I cannot definitely trace it either to Durham or to any other house.

Printed by Brewer in the Rolls edition of Giraldus, I. 397. He takes it to be the work of Giraldus himself.

The only other copy is one of cent. xvi, in Harl. 359.

750. Fr. Godwin Catalogus Episcoporum Bathoniensium et Wellensium. { R. 7. 12 / 466

Vellum, $7\frac{7}{8} \times 6$, pp. 4 + 100 + 6, 26 lines to a page. Cent. xvi (1594).

Given by Nevile.

Contents:

On the first and last leaves an inscription:
Hunc Catalogum conscripsit Franciscus Godwynus Ecclesiae Wellensis Canonicus A.D. 1595 Anno Reg. Eliz. 38°.

On the first page is added (by Griffiths) A Duw, a digon.

A list of the Deans of Wells from Ivo to John Herbert, 1589.

Catalogus Episcoporum Bathoniensium et Wellensium . . . f. 1

Urbis nostrae Wellensis nullam reperio mentionem ante annum a Christo nato 704.

The Bishops begin with Aldhelm (p. 3) and end with John Still.

From Will. Bitton (no. 23) onwards their arms are neatly painted on the margin.

At the bottom of p. 100 is the signature (autograph)

Decemb: 15 1594 Ffranc. Godwyn.

On the next page but one are the arms of the Church and See of Wells and of the Abbey and See of Bath and Wells.

Then follows a list of the Bishops with references to the pages of the MS.

751. CHRONICON.
W. MALMESBURIENSIS DE GESTIS PONTIFICUM. { R. 7. 13 / 455

Vellum, $7\frac{7}{8} \times 5\frac{3}{8}$, ff. 186, 31 lines to a page. Cent. xv, in a current hand, with borders of good English work. Completed in cent. xvi.

Given by Nevile. It belonged to Matthew Parker (Abp.) whose name is on the fly-leaf in red pencil. 2 fo. vino et oleo.

Possibly from Sherborne: see below.

The fly-leaf is a bit of a much obliterated list of names (xv) with a payment noted for each.

Sir Guy Wolston Knyght xx*li.* etc. (one page).

On another fly-leaf is the beginning of a chronicle (xv):

Anglia modo dicta olim Albion dicebatur —dolorem animi eius deliniens et animans ad gaudium cor illius. Que consolacione.

Collation: 4 fly-leaves | a^8–f^8 g^6 || 1^8–3^8 (7 canc.)–10^8 | etc. xvi.

Contents:

On the last fly-leaf, a title, beginning

On the L. (outside) is a black monk kneeling, with scroll, O mater dei memento mei. In the border at the bottom is a shield gu. a cross arg. over a crosier or in pale in the dexter half.
The xvth cent. hand ends on f. 133 b in § 96
ubi antiquitus et s. petri

The last 2 lines and the rest of the book (lib. III, IV) are added in a good Parkerian hand, on vellum, ending on f. 186 a.

It is no. 20 in Hamilton's edition (Rolls series), p. xxv.

752. The French Brute Chronicle. { R. 7. 14 / 456

Vellum, $8\frac{1}{8} \times 5\frac{1}{8}$, ff. 149, 21 lines to a page. Cent. xiv, xv neatly written.

Vellum, $11\frac{3}{4} \times 8\frac{5}{8}$, ff. 84 + fly-leaves, triple columns, 23 lines of Hebrew, 48 of Latin, to a column. Cent. xiii, xiv, well written, with good penwork initials.

Given by Nevile. 2 fo. (Lat.) Exsurge or populi que.

Collation: a^2 1^8–10^8 11^4 (4 stuck to cover).

Contents:

2 fly-leaves which contain portions of 2 Chronicles, in Hebrew, with spaces left for an intercolumnar Latin version, and an interlinear Latin gloss.

Psalter in three versions.

Column 1 contains the Hebrew well written (probably by a Jew) with points and accents, and an interlinear literal (Latin) rendering for each word.

Col. 2. Jerome's Psalterium Hebraicum.

Col. 3. The Gallican Psalter.

The catchwords are in Hebrew, which rather implies that the Hebrew was written first (as in the case of the fly-leaves).

The book is an important monument of the mediaeval study of Hebrew in England. It may very probably have belonged to a Franciscan house. Other MSS. exist, containing further portions of the Old Testament in Hebrew with interlinear Latin translation, and, in several cases, the Latin Vulgate, viz. at Corpus Christi College, Oxford, no. v (the Pentateuch), no. vi (Jos. Jud. Sam. Eccl. Esther), no. ix (Sam. Chron.), no. x (Psalter, with the Gallican and Jerome's 'Hebrew'), no. xi (Psalms, Prov.); at St John's College, Oxford, no. cxliii (Jos. Jud. Cant. Eccl.). All these MSS. are of cent. xiii or xiv, and resemble ours in execution. They may owe their existence either to the influence of Roger Bacon, or to that of Grosseteste. In favour of this latter supposition is the fact that Henry of Costessey in his Commentary on the Psalms (MS. Christ's College F. 1. 17) frequently quotes the "superscriptio in psalterio domini Lincolniensis ubi tria vel quatuor psalteria coniunctim continentur." By the "superscriptio" it is evident that he means an interlinear Latin gloss on the Hebrew, such as is contained in this MS.

See on these MSS. the tract of M. Samuel Berger: Quam notitiam linguae Hebraicae habuerint Christiani medii aevi temporibus in Gallia. (Paris, Hachette, 1893, pp. 49–53.) All the extant MSS. of this mediaeval version from the Hebrew are of English origin and in English libraries.

Diri patris infausta pignora ante ortus dampnati tempora quia nostra sic iacent corpora mea dolent introrsus pectora.
Fessus luctu confectus senio gressu tremens labente uenio quam sinistro nectus (natus) sim genio nullo capi potest ingenio.
Cur flexerunt (fluxerunt) a uiro semina ex quibus me concepit femina?
infernalis me regni numina hic malorum non esset tumulus (cumulus).

O in quanto dolore senui hanc animam plus iusto tenui uiri fortes et nimis strenui quam infanda uos nocte genui.
Ab antiqua rerum congerie cum pugnarent rudes materie fuit moles huius miserie

Incestaui matris cubilia uibrans ferrum per patris ilia;
quis hominum inter tot milia perpetrauit umquam similia?
Turpis fama tebani (erasure germinis) mundi sonat diffusa terminis quadrifidi terrarum luminis (l. liminis) tangit metas uox nostri criminis.
Me infami reum luxuria scelus meum aborrent tartara.

O quam male seruastis filii constituta[s] uices exilii caro nitans (sic) ad instar lilii quid de uobis sumam consilii?
Si pudore carerent aspera minus esset sors nostra misera sed pudenda tebarum scelera mare clamat tellus et sidera.
Quod dolore nondum deficio ex innato procedit uicio graui demum pressus exicio mortis horam iam sicio.
Cordis mei uulnus aperui quando mihi oculos erui supplicium passus quod merui meo regnum iure deserui.
Parentele oblitus celebris

Vellum, $5\frac{7}{8} \times 4\frac{1}{2}$, ff. 193, 18 lines to a page. Cent. xiii (well written) and xv.

Given by Walter Hawkesworth Esq., Fellow Commoner. Jan. 1788.

Collation: 1^8 2^8 3^6 4^{10} 5^8 (wants 1, 2, $3^?$) 6^8 7^8 (wants 5) 8^8 9^{10} 10^{10} (wants 2 and 10) 11^8 12^8 (wants 5, 8) 13^8–15^8 (wants 3) 16^6 17^{10} (10 canc.) 18^8–23^8 (8 canc.) || 24^8 25^8 (+ 8*).

Begins imperfectly with Psalm xxix (xxx). Exaltabo te domine quoniam suscepisti me.
The Psalter ends on f. 153 a.
Cantica, ending with Quicunque vult and Litany . . . f. 153
Litany ends with Collect Presta quesumus, omnipotens deus cunctis fidelibus defunctis etc. f. 176 b.
The remainder of the book is an addition of the xvth century, neatly written, containing
1. Litany with many Collects at end: the last . . . 177
Pro pluuia postulanda.
2. In agenda mortuorum (office of the Dead) . . . 186 b
Ending 193 b with the rubric oraciones ut supra.

The provenance of the book can best be settled by the Litany, and the style of ornamentation. In the xiiith cent. Litany we have Martyrs: Gereon, Quintin, George, Blasius; Confessors: Eligius, Germanus, Vedastus, Amandus, Bavo, Macharius, Wandregisil, Gudwalus, Ansbertus; Virgins: Genouefa, Amelberga.

As to the ornament; each page has a frame of three sides enclosing the initials of the verses. The right side is open, and the top and bottom bars of the frame end uniformly in grotesque heads, alternately vermilion and green. The initials themselves are in burnished gold. All the historiated initials have been removed. They included the seven Nocturnes and the 51st and 101st Psalms.

Both the Litany and the external aspect of the book point to Flanders as the region where it was produced. And there is a curious confirmation of this. Ps. lxxix. (Qui regis Israel) ended almost at the bottom of a page (f. 71 b). The scribe wanted a fresh page to begin Ps. lxxx. upon, because it began a division of the Psalter and had to have a large pictured initial: so in order to fill up space at the bottom of f. 71 b he writes the last verse of Psalm lxxix. thus ostende faciem tuam et salui et salui et salui erimus erimus erimus si di en zot zi di een ries.

The xvth cent. Litany at the end has some interest. In it we have Martyrs: Albane ii, Amphibale cum sociis, Oswyne ii, and the ordinary English martyrs. Among Confessors I need only note that 'macuthe' is added in the margin and Benedict has a double invocation.

The provenance is indicated by the Martyrs' names. It must be either St Albans, which is most probable, or else Tynemouth (where St Oswin lay) which was a cell to St Albans.

Paper, $12\frac{1}{2} \times 8\frac{1}{2}$.

A miscellaneous mass of papers and fragments from the collections of Puckering, Beaupré Bell and others, bound in a volume. The items which are immediately recognizable, and are apparently complete, are:

Notes on Thucydides, Xenophon, and Polybius (subject-matter) in English. Cent. xvi, xvii.

Then follows a mass of imperfect Latin and Italian papers, no doubt from Puckering, containing Latin speeches, declamations, and fragments of Relationi in Italian.

English papers, fragmentary, then follow, including a quire of Addenda Animadversionibus ultimo excusis Oxoniae impensis Richardi Davis. These are notes on the New Testament.

Also a list of Books given to Trinity College Library by Dr Bosanquet.

The last item is from Beaupré Bell 1740, viz.:

A copy of a Latin process of 1634 relating to four villages Alze, Neustadt, Germersheim and Oppenheim, given to Elizabeth of Bohemia, with notary's device and seal.

852. MISCELLANEOUS PAPERS. { R. 10. 9 / ? 673

Continentur in hoc libro Primo
Ymagines historialiter figurate pandentes ordinem processumque
Apologetici libri de omni statu humane nature docentis.
Item prefatus apologeticus liber in quatuor actus diuisus a Magistro Thoma Cancellario Wellensis Ecclesie compilatus.

Item libellus de laudibus duarum ciuitatum et sedium per supradictum Cancellarium Wellensem collectus.

Item eiusdem Epistole quatuor laudes optimi ac beneficentissimi domini sui loquentes.

Item libellus metricus poetice compilatus de Iudicio solis in conuiuiis saturni • cuius libelli autor ignotus existit.

A series of full-page pictures of most delicate stippled work. Green, white, and blue, and occasionally a pale red, are the colours employed. Each is in a dull red frame. The execution is of the highest order. Each has an inscription below it. The pictures belong to the first of the tracts contained in the volume.

1. Actus Primus. The Fall of the Angels. In C. on a throne under an arrased canopy, with curtains knotted up into round balls, sits the Father, an aged figure, in cope and imperial crown. On L. stand the obedient Angels (13 in number), some six-winged, some two-winged, adoring.

On R. the rebel angels fall, changing as they go into demons: the foremost plunges into the earth.

On L. in front lies Man, nude, looking up.

2. In C. Man throned in ermined robe and diadem. God on L. puts sceptre and orb into his hands. On R. in front is Sensualitas, a lady holding an apple. On L. Ratio, a crowned lady holding a mirror, and attended by two angels.

3. Man throned, he takes the apple from Sensuality and breaks his sceptre (Original Righteousness) over the face of Reason, who holds the mirror up to him. The angels still attend her. The orb is dropped on to the step of the throne.

4. Man, whose robe has fallen off, sits nude on a settle. Sensuality on R. seated by him. He holds the mirror. Reason, wounded and alone, turns her back on him.

5. Man nude fleeing through a wilderness: again on R. he is seen hiding behind a bare thorn bush.

6. Actus secundus. God stands in a landscape. On L. Reason kneels and points to her wounds. On R. Man summoned by God, creeps from behind the tree.

7. God gives to Man, clad in a skin robe, a wooden spade shod with iron and a scourge.

8. Actus tercius. In a room God throned: four steps lead up to the canopied throne: before them is a wooden bar, at which stand Reason and her advocates, Truth and Justice, then Man with spade and scourge, and his advocates, Mercy and Peace.

9. God descends from his throne and embraces Man. Mercy and Peace, Truth and Justice, also embrace.

10. In a landscape God in imperial crown, but clad in a skin tunic like that of man, stands by Man and introduces him to four men on L.—the Four Virtues. A Warrior in plate armour (Fortitude), a man with balance (Justice), one in a hat (Prudence) and one holding a small scroll (Temperance).

11. Actus quartus. In a vestibule—Man's house—Man (aged) is sitting holding his scourge and spade. About him stand the Four Virtues, the mailed man being at the door on R. A toothless old man (Fear of Death) kneels and holds out a letter to Man.

12. The same scene. Charity, a kneeling angel, is introduced to man by Prudence: and Fortitude pushes Fear of Death out of the door.

13. A similar scene. Man seated in the Centre. The Four Virtues behind him. In front on L. Death, a nude bony corpse, pierces his side with a lance. On R. Charity stands holding a crown.

14. A similar scene. Man, young once more, is throned. Fortitude crowns him, Prudence gives him the orb, Justice the sceptre, and Temperance puts the robe about his shoulders.

On the verso:

15. In a room with arrased or painted walls and tiled pavement sits Bp Bekynton in a chair with arrased canopy. By him is a crozier-bearer who holds a portifory in his hand by the circuit edge of the binding. Before the Bp kneels Chaundler in a gown and hood, giving him a book with clasps and a 'bag-binding.' The Bp wears a tippet or cappa, and his mitre is above his head, seemingly not touching it.

Hardy, Materials, III. p. 251, says of this Chronicle:

This contains a brief abridgment of Geoffrey of Monmouth to Cassibelaunus. The account of the Heptarchy with the succession of Kings to the year 1121 is taken from William of Malmesbury. The portion relating to the Dukes of Normandy is compiled from Henry of Huntingdon, Ailred of Rievaulx, and Ralph Niger. From 1121 to 1135 it is from Henry of Huntingdon: from 1135 to 1198 is from Ralph de Diceto and Ralph Niger and his continuator: from 1198 to 1200 is from Roger Hoveden; from 1200 to 1297 is taken from the same source as that followed by Trivet. The substance of the remainder, or rather, the titles of chapters to the capture of the Earl of Athol, is nearly as in Langtoft.

The author's name is to be deduced from the words f*ortissime* $\overline{xpo}$ ton*ante*. It is evidently Foxton.

In principio creauit deus celum et terram et mundum et uniuersa que in eis sunt. Mundus igitur dicitur 4^{or} elementa.

There are diagrams of the spheres, and also a number of full-page pictures of very good and careful execution, consisting of full-length figures showing the various temperaments.

The first is on f. 12 b.

Prima ymago (The Sanguine Temperament). Nude red-haired man, ruddy all over. A sword in R. hand, a white bird on R. arm, a gold cup in L. hand, a sprig of a plant on his breast.

There is in each case a distich above, and on L. a list of the physiognomical characteristics of the temperament.

Secunda ymago (The Phlegmatic) . . . . . 13 b

White-haired pale man, hand to head, eyes closed, book in L. hand, vomiting.

Tercia ymago (The Melancholic) . . . . . 14 b

Black-haired, swarthy man shewing two gold discs. A crow on his R. hand: he plunges a knife into his breast.

Quarta ymago (The Choleric) . . . . . 15 b

Yellow-haired, yellow man girt with sword: a spray of roses and other flowers in his mouth.

On f. 20 a and b two diagrams of hands.

On f. 23 tables of prognostics of seasons under different planets.

Other tables, for bleeding, etc.

Quinta ymago . . . . . 28 b

A picture like that in R. 15. 18, of a man with the twelve signs of the Zodiac perched about him. It shows the seasons for bleeding.

Sexta ymago. The first planet: the Moon . . . . 31 b

A youth in half-brown half-blue furred tunic: a gold crescent on his head: girt with a napkin, holding a gold ewer with lid in each hand. A crab on his breast and a gold full moon at his middle.

Septima ymago. The Sun . . . . . 35 b

A young man slightly bearded, in flowered tunic with hanging sleeves: on his breast a sun in clouds and a lion. He stands in fire.

(Octaua ymago. Jupiter) . . . . . 37 b

A youth in dark red tunic, ungirt, semée of eagles. He holds a gold horn to his lips, and a gold tumbler. On his breast is a gold sun. He stands in the branches of a plant with a gold root, in which are two Fishes. His L. thigh is pierced with an arrow.

(Nona ymago. Saturnus) . . . . . 41 b

In green cap and white loin-cloth: a gold star on his breast. On his R. arm two children; he is eating the head of one. In his L. hand a serrated sickle. Between his legs Capricorn and a hand holding a gold ewer (Aquarius).

(Decima ymago. Mars) . . . . . 44 b

(Undecima ymago. Mercurius) . . . . . 47 b

In green tunic and hose. A crown of clouds, half blue half dark brown. Gemini on his shoulders joining hands. Virgo's bust on his breast. He is young, and holds a purse in his L. hand.

(Duodecima ymago. Venus) . . . . . 50 b

that the octave of S. Denis (17 Kal. Nov.) is in England almost peculiar to Winchester: and that the spelling Machloni (17 Kal. Dec.) points to the same place.

Vellum, 17 × 12, ff. 32 + 3, double columns of 56 lines. Cent. xiii cir. 1250, of magnificent execution: Anglo-Norman.

Given by Dame Anne Sadleir. On the fly-leaf she has written:

I commit this booke to the custodie of the right Reuerend Father in God Raffe Lo: Bishop of Exon, when times are better setled (which God hasten) it is with my other booke & my coines giuen to Trinitie Colledge Librarie in Cambridge, God in his good time restore her with her Sister Oxford to there pristine happines, the Vulger People to there former obedience, and God blesſ and restore Charles the Second, & make him like his most glorious Father. Amen.

August the 20^{tie} 1649 — Anne Sadleir.

Note:

Vid. Epistolam M^{ri} & Seniorum inter Chartulas praenobilis illius Foeminae Dominae Annae Sadler in hac classe reservatas.

There is an oldish mark (xvii) in the cover: J. 1. 10 (R. 5. 5), probably later than the date of its arrival here.

The binding (xvi–xvii) is of white skin with gold tooling. The royal arms and crown in the centre.

Collation: a^{2} 1 stuck to cover ‖ 1^{8}–3^{8} 4^{6} 5^{4} (3 stuck to cover, 4 canc.).

On f. 1 of text is an erasure.

On the verso of f. 32 (last fly-leaf) is a faint trace of a name (?) in a large hand, which I think is He..., possibly for Prince Henry.

Text begins

Col. 1. Tut des mescreauns crurent en nostre seignur iesu crist par le prechement seint iohan le apostle.
—v il par la demustraunce de deu uit e ascrit le apocalipse en teu manere.

Col. 2. Nostre seignur i. c. apres sun releuer enuea sas deciples —e deslia mus del errur de la paenierie.

It seems as if the text of these two columns ought to be transposed.

Col. 1. De (for Le) apocalipse ihesu crist ke deu li duna . f. 2 b

Col. 2. Uerrai chose est seint Iohan le euangeliste auer esscrit cest liuere. Apocalipse signefie demustraunce.

On f. 3, which has no pictures, the text of the Apocalypse is continued on col. 1, and that of the comment on col. 2, and so on until half-way down f. 4 a. At that point the Epistles to the Seven Churches end. The comment on them ends:

Ke uus fuseis cunstreint a fere bens par pour del fu pardurable e repentir des maus. Mes pur co ke uus estes teue io comencera a uomir tai.

Text and comment continue in alternate columns, where they are of equal length: where the comment is more voluminous, it spreads into long lines extending across the page. f. 20*a* is wholly occupied with writing, and also f. 25. On the recto of this are text and comment in two columns; on the verso, comment only, in long single lines. The subject, a disquisition on the precious stones of the New Jerusalem. f. 27*b* is also wholly writing. The text and comment end on this page: the latter, thus:

E la grace nostre seignur ihesu crist seit od nus tus e nus doint les armes des uertues par les queues nus garniȝ od lu dustre e baneur seums defenduȝ des enemis foreins e de ceus de deins. ke nus deseruuns estre parceneres de la uie pardurable. ki uit e regne od le pere e od le seint espirit en secle de secles. Amen.

The comment is a French version of the Exposition of Berengaudus (cent. viii, ix) on the Apocalypse. This was sometimes attributed to St Ambrose and is printed among his works (Migne, P. L. XVII. 842). The comment on the Epistles to the Seven Churches is considerably shortened in our MS., and probably that is the case in other parts of the book.

This is unquestionably one of the very finest specimens of a pictured Apocalypse which exists: and there are a great many of them. Not much has been written about it, but it is referred to by Waagen (Art Treasures in Great Britain) and by M. Samuel Berger, La Bible Française.

It is unnecessary to spend words upon praising the art of the book. The place where it was written was either North France or England; and the language, especially the frequent occurrence of ei for oi, inclines me to suppose that that at least is of English character[1]. I do not know whether the presence of the royal arms on the binding is a certain indication that it was ever in possession of the Kings of England: but it is certain that it must have been written for either a person or an institution of the highest rank. The Paris Apocalypse (Bibl. Nat. Fr. 403) comes nearest to our MS. of any. It is even said to be slightly better in execution. It, too, is of English or Anglo-Norman origin. A complete facsimile in photography is in process of publication.

[1] I am a little inclined to suggest St Alban's Abbey as the place where this book was written. It differs from the Canterbury type as seen in the Lambeth Apocalypse.

The Bodleian MS. of the Apocalypse, published for the Roxburghe Club in 1876, under the auspices of the Rev. H. O. Coxe, though widely different in aspect from this MS., is not very far distant from it in date. It is slightly later, and its pictures are rather markedly similar in composition to these. It will therefore be occasionally referred to in the course of my description.

Three artists (perhaps four) have been employed, I believe, upon the pictures. One is responsible for the first sixteen leaves, and for the pictures of St John's life at the end, except the last leaf. His peculiarity is that he marks the colour in the faces of his figures. Their cheeks are graced with patches of pink. The second artist—quite the equal of the first in ability—leaves his faces pale. His work extends from f. 17 to f. 27 inclusive, with the possible exception of the remarkable picture of the New Jerusalem on f. 25 b. This, which affords the finest specimen of gold work in the book, I rather incline to attribute to a third artist. The figures seem to me to differ from the work of the other two. The last pictured leaf, f. 31, is unfinished. The inscriptions have not been added. In style it resembles the work of the second painter: but it is not so carefully drawn, and if it be his, he did this particular piece of work in a hurry. If not, it belongs to a fourth and inferior artist.

The pictures are distinguished by an extremely fine dry touch: and the scale of colour gives them an appearance of flatness, while they are at the same time incomparably rich.

The backgrounds are alternately blue and brown, studded with white patterns. At first they are wholly of one or other colour: later on, there is a central panel of the one and a broad border of the other.

The frames are uniformly plain bands of burnished gold.

The opening and closing pictures illustrate with unusual copiousness the Life of St John the Evangelist. There are eight scenes at the beginning and 22 at the end. The source employed by the designer is a little difficult to determine. The pictures follow very closely the order of the events given in the Legenda Aurea: but there are details (especially the picture of the raising of three dead men in no. 77) which point rather to the Passio Johannis of the Pseudo-Melito (Fabr. Cod. Apocr. N. T. II. 604).

f. 1 a. In three tiers.

1. In Centre, St John, young, standing full face under a gabled roof. On R. 3, and on L. 3, converts: each group has a label and so has John:

Theirs is: Nus refusums les ydles e creum en le deu (en ihesu) ki (sein) iohan preche.

John's: (T)ote choses sunt fet par deu et seins lu nest rein fet.

Legend, above: Ci cum sein iohan le ewangeliste preche la parole deu as mescreaunz.

2. On L. John baptizes Drusiana in a font supported by arches. Two Christians on R. On R. of this a tower, and three pagans looking in, one in close cap, one in winged hat, and one in peaked hat.

Ci cum sein iohan baptize drusieine • Dunt les paens cureces felenellement le espierent.

3. L.: Pagans with label (1): two holding John. Accuser with label (2). The 'provost' throned with sword and label (3).

Ci cum le amenent deuaunt le prouost de ephese ki cumaunda ke il fust mene a domicien le amp(er)eur.

The labels are: (1) (Traez iohan al prouost kar il enentist le onur de nos deus. (2) Cestu ad despit nos deus e enentist lur onur. (3) (P)resentez iohan le enemi de nos deus a cesar.

f. 1 b.

4. John led to the sea embarks in a ship. Two scenes. John on L. led by a man with stick and cloak over shoulder. On R. John with two men behind him steps into a ship in which are five men: one (small) on the yard, another having his head held over the side by a friend.

(I)ci cum seint iohan ua uers la nef. e cum il se met en la nef uers roume a domicien le empereur.

5. John before Domitian. One behind him. He has a label: (D)eu enuea sun fiz en le munde ke nus uiuums par lu. Accuser facing R. with label: Cestu destrut le onur de nos deus par noucle aprise. Domitian throned full face on gold ground under trefoil arch: a white dog at his feet. He has sceptre and label: (M)etez iohan en un ton<el> de oile ardant por co ke il despit nos deus. A counsellor under arch on R. in gown with sword.

(I)ci cum seint iohan est ancuse de sa aprise deuant le empereur. e cum le empereur cumaunde ke il seit mis en un tonel plein de oile ardant.

6. John before the Latin Gate: he is clad in linen drawers and steps into the caldron. The gate ((P)orta latina), many-coloured, is on L. A man leans on a staff in front of it and looks on. Two men are behind John as he steps into the tub (of wood with iron bands). He steps out on R. towards a savage and horrified man.

Ici cum il est mis en le tunel. e cum il sen ist si nest de ren blesce par la grace de deu.

f. 2 a. 7. Domitian orders him into exile. Counsellor, with sword on L. Domitian throned under architecture with label: (M)etez iohan ki despit nos deus en issil en le isle ki est apele patmos. John (hooded) on R. led away by two violent men.

(I)ci cumaunde domicien ke sein iohan seit issillez en le isle ke est apele pathmos.

8. The Voyage to Patmos. John seated full face with book in a ship, with a dragon's head at the stern and a bird at the prow. Three other men, two with paddles, one with arm raised to the sail.

(I)ci est seint iohan mis en nef uers le isle ki est apel pathmos.

f. 2 b. 9. The Vision of the Angel. The Seven Churches. On L. in a square compartment, John sleeps on a square isle with wavy shores, surrounded by green water. An angel stands over him with label: (C)o ke uus ueez escriuez en un liuere e enueez a set eglises. On R. the seven churches in two rows, 3 above, and 4 below. They are of various forms, but generally speaking consist of a cupola or dome between two towers. An angel with book stands in the arch of each (half-length). The names of the churches are written on white bands above them. Ephesus is put on L. above.

(I)ci est seint iohan en le isle de pathmos.

10. He adores the Son of Man. On L. he stands looking to R. An angel's face in the sky speaks to him: (C)o ke uus ueez escriuez en liuere e enueez a set eglises ephesum etc.—laodiciam. Below this label are four gold candlesticks. Then John prostrate at the feet of Christ, who stands in blue robe with gold girdle, gold face, red eyes, and grey hair. A sword goes from His mouth to L. He has a label: (N)e dutez ren. io su premeren e derein e uif etc.—e ke kouein estre fet apres ices choses (Rev. i. 17^{b}-19).

f. 3 a, b. Text.

f. 4 a. 11. The Door opened in heaven. A narrow compartment on L.: below, John looking up. Above, the door open. Within, the head of an angel blowing a trumpet, whence issues a label: Muntez sa e io uus mustrerai ke kuuent estre fet apres ices choses. The rest of the picture is divided into four bands, interrupted in C. by a rectangle enclosing a circle. In the circle is God, in the spandrels the four Beasts.

The Elders have each a harp and a narrow-necked bottle. In the upper row are eight, and in the 2nd and 3rd rows four each, in the lowest eight.

The face of God is green ("in sight like unto an emerald"). He holds a book liber signatus, and a flowering sceptre virga iusticie. On either side of the throne are three nimbed beasts' heads labelled fulgura, uoces, tonitrua, and below His feet is the globe, lettered Asia, Affrica, Europa. Below there is white water.

f. 4 b. 12. The Elders above. The sealed book in the hand of God. John is in a narrow compartment on L. In C. a mandorla. God seated, with sealed book and sceptre, and sphere (on water) below His feet. The ground behind Him is gold. In the spandrels the four beasts with labels Scs. Scs. Scs. nostre seignur deu tut puisant ki est. On R. and L. four square spaces each containing six kneeling Elders, with gold vials: some take off their crowns. Two labels run across the groups. (N)ostre seignur deu uus estes digne receiuere glorie e honur etc.—e sunt tutes choses criez (iv. 11).

f. 5 a. 13. The Angel proclaims. Quis est dignus. John on L. The angel holds a label (K)i est digne ouerir le liuere e delier les signacles de lu. John weeps.

On R. an Elder speaks to him: he has a label Ne plureiz • ueez le leun del ligne iuda etc.—e sas set seaus (v. 5).

14. The Lamb takes the book. In a narrow compartment on L. is John with book. On R. three compartments: R. and L. groups, each of 13 angels with label: (L)i aignel ki est oscis raceiuer glorie etc. (v. 12). In C. a mandorla (the four beasts in the spandrels). God seated full-face with sceptre. The Lamb takes the book (on L.). In the throne are six faces. Before it the Lamb with banner, a spear wounding its breast. It holds a book inscribed: le nouel testament e le veil. Next below, a narrow band containing the 24 Elders, each with a harp and gold vial. In C. a label (N)ostre seignur deu estes digne—de tus lignages e langages (v. 9). Below this, another narrow band. On L. water with fish: then birds (swan, peacock, cock, etc.): twelve men and women in two groups, with label (B)eneisun e honur etc.—en secle de secles (v. 13): group of beasts (horse, ox, lion, etc.): water with fish and two swans.

f. 5 b. 15. The first horse. The composition of 15–17 is as in the Bodleian MS. (Bodl.). John on L. Demi-angel with scroll: (V)eneis ueer. Rider on white horse, crowned, with arrow on bowstring.

f. 6 a. 16. The second horse. The lion in air has the label: (V)enez ueer. Co est a dire. Entendez aspirituaument co ke uus lisez. Crowned rider on red horse, with sword.

17. The third horse. The ox with label inscribed as in the last. The rider on the black horse, crowned, with balances.

f. 6 b. 18. The pale (brown) horse (as Bodl.). He has nothing in his vial. Hell-mouth, full of devils, follows him. Over it is the eagle, with label as before.

19. The Souls under the altar (as Bodl.). John on L. The altar with panelled frontal stands on four arches. In each stands a nude figure. Les almes des tues pur le amur de deu. Across them a label: Seint e uerrai seignur etc.—ki habitent en la tere (vi. 10). On R. two angels clothe two souls.

f. 7 a. 20. The sixth seal. The earthquake. John on L. Above on R. of him, black sun and red moon: mountains in air: falling towers: terrified crowd (a king among them) run to a mountain on R. They have a label: Muntaines chees sur nus e musceis nus de le face del seant sur le trone e del ire del agnel pur co ke (vi. 16).

21. John on L. A great circle, the circumference red with green water inside. At the cardinal points stand four angels, each between two trees, holding winged masks (winds). Within is an oblong, divided into 12 narrow compartments in two rows: each contains a number of figures, and above each is written: le ligne iuda,—ruben,—gad, etc. In the upper R. corner an angel proceeds out of the sun, with a label: (N)e nuseis a la tere etc.—en lur fruns (vii. 3).

f. 7 b. 22. Three tiers: the first in three divisions. C. mandorla (four beasts in spandrels): God enthroned, with Lamb on L.: globe inscribed (A)sia, (A)ffrica, (E)uropa below His feet: six faces on the throne. R. and L. kneeling angels (7 on each side). Label: (B)eneisun e clarte etc.—en secle de secles amen (vii. 12).

Second tier. The 24 Elders crowned, seated, with harps.

The third. John on L. with label: (M)un seignur uus sauez. Crowned elder with two labels: (1) (I)ceus ki sunt cuuert de blanches uestures ki sunt il e dunt uindrent. (2) (I)ceus sunt ki uindrent etc.—en le sanc del aignel (vii. 14). On R. a crowd of men and women (a Bishop, a monk, etc.) in white, with palms. Label: (S)aunte seit a nostre deu etc. e al aignel (vii. 10).

f. 8 a. 23. Two tiers. A. John on L. with book. Seven angels receive trumpets from an eighth. On R. in mandorla, God enthroned, as in 22, without the globe.

B. John. Angel with censer and incense-ship. Altar. God in a circle above it. Angel pours censer upon trees. Flames in air. Cloud above, with six faces in it (thunders).

f. 8 b. 24. John. Six angels with trumpets. A seventh on R. blows trumpet over trees.

25. John. The second angel blows trumpet. Sea, green with band of red. Two ships capsize: others on R. with frightened crews.

f. 9 a. 26. John. Angel with trumpet. Men tearing their hair, etc., by a river, into which a star (A)bsinthium falls.

27. John. Angel with trumpet. Gold sun and moon on R. Below them a flying eagle, with label: Alas alas alas as habitaunz en tere (viii. 13).

f. 9 b. 28. John. Angel with trumpet. The locusts, black bodies, winged, crowned, issue from "le put de abisme." Their king, crowned, black, and winged, is mounted on one: Le rei des gresiluns. Si est apele en fraunceis dewastaunt. Terrified men on R.

f. 10*a*. 29. Two tiers. A. John. Angel with trumpet. God enthroned in an eight-foil medallion in air. From a face on L. of throne proceeds a label: Desliez les quatre aungeles—de eufraten (ix. 14). On R. the four angels, with vicious brown faces and bound hands, lie on green water. An angel unbinds the hands of one, who grins at him.

B. The four angels stand on water. Three of them have swords or spears.

30. John and another man. A troop of mailed horsemen, with hideous grinning faces and hooked noses, ride to R. mounted on locusts, which breathe fire on to men on R.

f. 10*b*. 31. A. John. The great angel surrounded by cloud, a rainbow over his head, raised hand: R. foot on water, L. on earth (a little sphere containing two oxen and a tree).

John sits on ground writing and looking up. Above, in a cloud, seven heads (thunders), label: ne esscriuez pas les signes ke les set toneires unt parle (x. 4).

The angel as before (without cloud or rainbow) hands the book to John on R. Label: Receueiz cest liuere e deuorez le—serra cum mel (x. 9). A face in a cloud above says: Alez si perneiz le liuere—e sur la tere (x. 8).

B. John sits and begins to eat the book. He sits full-face holding both hands on his stomach and looks anxious. Angel on R. with label: Il te kouent de rechef prophetizer—e as mus reis (x. 11).

f. 11*a*. 32. John seated on L. takes measuring-reed from angel. Label: leuez e mesurez le temple deu e les oraunz en lu (xi. 1). The Temple on R. Porch: three pointed cupolas form the roof of the main building, divided by four towers. Under a great trefoiled arch below are seen a man and woman praying on either side of a draped altar.

f. 11*b*. 33. A. In C. the two witnesses, in brown robes, bare feet, red caps, staves, address two crowds seated on R. and L.

B. The witness on L. breathes fire on to the people on L. The other addresses those standing on R.

f. 12*a*. 34. A. Crowd on L., one with wreathed head, point to the witnesses (in lighter brown). They lie on the ground holding a broken spear, and the Beast (a horse covered with mail, with dark-coloured crowned human head), gnaws the hand of one.

B. Buildings and people on R. and L. The witnesses lie dead in C.

f. 12*b*. 35. People on L. The witnesses standing full face. A face above says: Muntez sa. Falling buildings on R. above the feet of the witnesses in clouds. People falling from towers and lying dead on R.

36. John. Angel with trumpet. God throned in quatrefoil within circle, faces in the spandrels saying: Le reaume de cest mund—en secle de secles (or parts of the same text (xi. 15)). The crowned elders kneel facing L. with label: Nus rendums graces—e la gent sun cureces (xi. 17, 18[a]). On R. the heavenly temple with shrine (the ark) on altar, under trefoiled arch. Over the roof are six faces, lettered Gresil, Fudres, e vois.

f. 13*a*. 37. A. The red dragon; his neck cleverly represented as a mass of roughness and wrinkles. The woman reclining in bed with cusped nimbus, gold flames of the sun by her, and crescent at her feet, hands her child to a kneeling angel on R. The angel bears it up to a vacant throne in a circle on R.

B. The red dragon. The woman seated between trees.

f. 13*b*. 38. Michael with spear and shield standing on the back of the red dragon. Three angels (2 on R., 1 on L.) fight smaller dragons with hatchet, sword and spear.

Label: Ore est fete saluz—de iur e de nut (xii. 10).

f. 14 a. 39. A. The red dragon casts water out of his mouth, which runs into a hole in the ground. The woman looks back at him. An angel above puts two wings on her. On R. she flies away over trees.

B. She sits between trees. Angel from above brings her a cake and a bowl.

On R. eight small figures, women, clerics, civilians, in air and on earth fight the dragon (in air) with bow, cross-bow, sword, javelin, spear, hatchet. The women hold red objects in their hands.

f. 14 b. 40. A. John. The red dragon on the shore. On the water stands the second beast, dark and spotted: kneeling worshippers on R. say: Ki est semblable a la beste e ki purra cumbatre od lu.

B. The second beast fighting with ecclesiastics and women: worshippers on R., one has a winged head-dress.

f. 15 a. 41. A. John. The third beast or false prophet rising out of the earth. He is dark brown, two-horned, and has a short red cloak.

He sits on a mound facing R. and points with a short staff to the sky, whence flames pour down. The second beast faces him, and on R. are worshippers.

B. Three men about to kill three martyrs (one a cleric). Two others kneel to the beast who stands on an altar.

f. 15 b. 42. The false prophet seated on L. Two men with pens about to mark the forehead and hand of two kneeling men. More people on R., one on horseback.

f. 16 a. 43. Three-quarter page in three main tiers.

A. John. In C. quatrefoil in circle, the four beasts in spandrels outside. The inner spandrels have a delicate pattern of white on blue. In the quatrefoil is a vacant throne. On R. and L. four compartments in two tiers. Those on L. each contain three, those on R. four crowned elders seated.

B. Ten more elders seated.

C. The Lamb with cross and banner in C. on Mount Sion. One figure in front of the mount, back to the spectator: a crowd on R. and L.

f. 16 b. 44. John. Above, three angels in air, horizontal, with labels.

(1) Ki auerad aore la beste—e deuant le esgard del aignel (xiv. 9, 10).

(2) Babilon chei icele graunde ki embeuera la gent de le uin de sa fornicatiun (xiv. 8).

(3) Dutez nostre seignur—ke le oure de sun iugement uent (xiv. 7[a]).

Below, two groups of seated people: between them a falling city.

f. 17 a. 45. John. Christ crowned and winged, seated in a cloud, holding a sickle. Below, He reaps corn. An angel in Temple. Dove on R. with label: Metez uostre fauille—le ble de la tere esecchist (xiv. 15).

46. Angel in Temple, dove on L. with sickle. Angel by flaming altar with label: Metez ta faucille—les grapes de les sunt meures (xiv. 18).

f. 17 b. 47. John. In a cloud stand seven angels conversing.

48. John. On a green sea with band of red (glass and fire) stand nine people with harps: some are women, and some ecclesiastics.

f. 18 a. 49. John. In a cloud-enclosed space; on L. the temple: a face seen at a window says: Alez e aspaundes les set fioles del ire de deu en tere.

On R. of the temple are the seven angels in light robes with gold girdles. The foremost takes a gold vial from the claws of the Eagle, who holds six others.

f. 18*b*. 50. First and second vials. The first poured on seated men, who writhe: the second on sea, which is red.

51. The third vial poured on red rivers.

Angel standing in cloud with label: Vus estes dreiturel—si cum il sunt dignes (xvi. 5, 6). Above, on R. the altar: a face proceeding out of it on L. says: Nostre seignur de tut pusaunt • tas iugemenz sunt uerrais e dreitureus.

Below, John sits on a mound.

f. 19*a*. 52. The fourth vial poured on the sun. Men below writhe.

The fifth poured on a throne (that of the beast). Men on each side sit and gnaw their tongues.

f. 19*b*. 53. The sixth vial poured on water (Euphrates), which divides.

John, facing R. The two beasts on mounds facing each other: the false prophet between them. Three brown-tailed frogs come from the mouth or mouths of each.

54. The seventh vial poured on to seated people. On R. in air three islands (marked Isle). Below, four cities, one falling. Above them on R. in clouds the heavenly temple, with Christ throned in C. in a quatrefoil. A face on L. of the throne says: Il est fet. Four heads above, lettered: Fudres, Vois, Toneires, Teremot.

f. 20*a*. 55. John led by an angel with label: Veneis io uus mustrerei—ke set sur mutes ewes (xvii. 1). In C. the woman in embroidered garment holding a gold-covered cup sits full-face on the back of the red seven-headed beast.

On R. she sits on a group of hills with three rivers, holding a mirror.

f. 20*b*. 56. John. Babylon fallen: devils' heads seen over the walls; and owls, storks, etc. perched on roofs. Above, an angel with label: O le chei O le chei Babilon la graunt—del ire de sa fornicatiun (xviii. 2). R. a gate, out of which come monks and a woman to R. On R. a group of king and others face them. Above, a face in air says: Mum poeple isset de lu—solum sas oeueres (xviii. 4–6).

f. 21*b*. 57. An angel standing on the sea about to drop a millstone into it. A ship on R. with two men.

Label: Babiloine cele graunt cite serra abatu par tel air • e iames ne serra troue.

f. 22*a*. 58. A. The Elders adore Christ. John on L. In C. in air Christ throned, with book inscribed A.Ω. He is in a mandorla within a lozenge. In the spandrels, a white pattern on blue. On R. and L. faces with labels: (L) Vus tus les seins nostre seignur—potis e grauns (xix. 5). (R) Alleluia. Pur co ke nostre seignur deu—ke les noces del ainel uindrent (xix. 6, 7). On the sides of the lozenge four half-circles contain the four beasts. Below and on R. and L. the crowned elders kneel. Label: Amen Alleluia. On R. and L. above, two faces with labels: (L) Alleluia Lowange e glorie—ki korumpist la tere (xix. 1, 2). (R) Alleluia. E la fumeie muntera en secle de secles.

B. The marriage-supper of the Lamb. On L. two servants, one with dish. Then a man in red, with wreath, playing the fiddle. A table. The Bride nimbed embracing the Lamb who stands above the table. Three guests on R. On the nearer side two servants kneel with knife and dish, and cup, and a harper sits.

f. 22*b*. 59. John and the angel. He kneels. The angel takes his R. hand and has a label: Veez ne le fetes—orez deu (xix. 10).

60. The 'Word of God.' John on L. In a cloud-surrounded space: on R. and L. two bands of nimbed horsemen facing to C. In C. Christ in brown robe on horseback, with seven nimbi, and a sword horizontal at His mouth, the point to L.

On R. outside the cloud, Christ treading the winepress. His light robe is stained with blood and on it is written: Rei des reis • e seignur des seignurauns.

f. 23 a. 61. John. Angel in the sun (a gold disc): label: Venez e asembles uus—e chars des seauns en eus (xix. 17, 18).

Three kings and other horsemen, all mailed: one of the horses has a vermilion housing. On three pennons are blue birds, on a fourth a blue lion.

f. 23 b. 62. Defeat of the beast. Angel stands over hell-mouth, and thrusts down the second beast. The false prophet (in red) is already there, and devils.

On R. lies a crowd of dead mailed men, and horses. Birds feed on them.

23 b. 63. Satan imprisoned. John. Angel in air with key, and chain. Red dragon on earth with chain round neck, held by angel with key who stands and faces R. Dragon thrust down a stone puteal (Le put de abisme) by angel who faces L. and has fork, and key in the keyhole of the pit.

24 a. 64. The first resurrection. John. Four figures (saints, but not nimbed) seated full-face on a rich seat. On R. a crowd of eleven figures.

65. The final war. On L. seven mailed men attack a walled city with battlements; they have cross-bow, pick, and beam used as battering ram against the gate. Within the city are seen seven heads of people: some are praying. Three more on turrets blow horns. On R. fire falls on the attacking party (ten in number this time). On R. of this an angel in air thrusts down the dragon with spear into hell-mouth.

24 b. 66. Two-thirds of page. A. In C. Christ in mandorla, throned, shows His wounds. On L. above, three angels with chalice, lance and nails, cross, and crown of thorns: below, Peter, a priest, a Franciscan, a woman, a monk, and another.

On R. above, a group of nude men, women and children standing in water. They hold open books. Below, Hell-mouth: nude figures stand in it holding open books.

B. A large Hell-mouth, the breadth of the picture, full of souls and devils.

25 a. 67. John on L. In C. descending from a cloud, the new Jerusalem, many-coloured.

On R. in air, Christ in mandorla with labels: (1) Veez ku (sic) fas tutes choses noueles. Escriuez pur co ke ce(s) paroles sunt tres leaus. (2) Io su A e Ω. cumencement e fin. Io durrei a celu ki ad seif de la funtaine del. From a face on R. of throne comes a label: Veez le tabernacle de deu—ne plur • ne cri (xxi. 3, 4).

Below on R. John sits facing L., writing and looking up at Christ.

25 b. 68. Two-thirds of the page. The new Jerusalem, laid out in ground-plan with three gates on each side. At bottom on L. John led upward by the hand by an angel who says: Vene(z) io uus mustrerai la femme espuse del aignel. In C. is a square of exquisitely patterned gold: within it, below, an angel with measuring-rod stooping to R.: above, on L. God throned, with book inscribed AMEN: the Lamb on L. From below His feet a stream of water goes to R. and passes through a beautiful conventional pattern of branch-work, many-coloured.

The background of the gates is composed of parallel bands of gold, silver, brown, blue, purple, pink, etc., seemingly twelve in number, not counting those that compose the frame. On these are the names of the Apostles in white capitals, which have been to some extent defaced.

At top, in C. SC. (PE)RE. SC. IOHAN. On L. SC. IVDE.

On R. SC. BARNABE. SC. ANDREV.

Below, SC. MATHEV. SC. PHILIP. SC. TOMAS.

On L. SC. SCIMON. SC. IACOB.

I seem to see another hand at work in the drawing of the figures in this picture.

27 a. 69. John kneels to an angel, with blank label.

On R. he kneels to Christ in mandorla, with blank label. Outside the mandorla is a lovely pattern of yellow on blue.

On f. 28 sqq. the series of pictures illustrating the life of John is continued. There are three pictures on a page separated by broad bands containing the titles, which are in a larger hand than those at the beginning.

28 a. 70. The death of Domitian. In C. he lies on the ground, crowned, covered with wounds. On L. two knights, one drawing his sword, the other about to strike and holding Domitian by the elbow. On R. two not in armour attack him with axes: a third in mail, with gold helmet, pierces him with a spear.

(I)ci coment les romeins oscient le empereur e ren ne uolerent auer estable de kaunt ke il estabti.

71. John's return. On L. a ship with sail, and steerer with paddle. John with book steps out. Four people and a servant with a horse meet him. Label: Beneit seit le nun deu ki seint iohan nus a remene de issil.

(I)Ci coment seint iohan reuent de issil apres la mort domicien e cum le poeple uent a cuntre lu.

72. John raises Drusiana. He stands in the doorway. Drusiana sits up on a bier, five relations by her.

On R. two poor men, one with a child attending, who carries a bowl, one with a child on his shoulders.

Three labels: (John) Li men segnur ihesu crist te resuscite drusieine. Leuez sus si ua a ta mesun. si me aparaile a manger. (The husband) Vn deue est ki seint iohan preche. e un uerrai ihesu crist nostre segnur. (A woman) Beau sire ueez nostre amie drusieine ke nus portum ci morte • ke desireit uostre repeir.

(I)Ci cument lemporte drusieine pur enterer e cum seint iohan la resuscite par la priere des poeueres.

28 b. 73. The jewels broken and restored. Crato the philosopher in brown habit with cowl and stick. Label: La richesce de cest secle ren ne uaut. Ales e despesces uos peres.

People listen to him. Two men break up jewels on anvils with hammers.

On R. Crato and five others face towards John (R.).

Labels: (Crato) Si uostre mestre uoit ki le pris de ces gemmes seit done as poueres fui les enters. (John, 1) Sire deu fetes ore ke ces gemmes seient enters e en meimes la beaute ke il furent. (2) Fol desp(i)te i ad ici del munde ki est lowe des buches des hommes. e despit de deu. si en ueine est la mescine ke ne ostre la enfermete.

(I)ci cum crato le filosofe precha le despit del munde e cum seint iohan le areisune del depescer des peres.

74. Conversion of Crato. He and his disciples kneel to John.

On R. John baptizes some of them in tubs: two others are stripping.

Ci cum craton od sas deciples e od les deus iuuenceus cheent deuaunt les pes del apostle. e cum il sunt baptizez.

75. Two youths give bread out of a basket held by a boy, to a crowd of poor: two (Atticus and Eugenius) are behind John, who is speaking.

Ci cum les iuuenceus departent le pris des peres os poueres • e cum les deus riches hommes de la cite de ephese siwent seint iohan.

29 a. 76. An old man. John with label: Alez si acatez uos teres ke vus uendistes. Kar le celestien guerdun auez perdu • e ore vus acatez uestiment de seie e kaunt uostre richesce serra ale si perderez le pardurable gi (?).

On the ground are bundles of golden rods, and jewels. The two youths Atticus and Eugenius stoop. Label: Ki uint unkes a nus de iloec ki nus pusum crere.

On R. stand three men.

Ci cum seint iohan turna les varges en or e les uiles peres en peres preciuses.

77. John with label: Di iuuencel • Jo ai espaundu lermes pur tai a deu nustre seignur ke tu puses resusciter de mort • pur co ke uus annuntiez a ces deus iuuenceus cum graunt peine les atent. Three youths sit up in a rich sarcophagus. By it kneels a youth in brown.

The three raised youths and another face R. One has label: Jo ui uos aungeles plorauns e les aungeles satanas asioisauns de uostre perdiciun. ia auez perdu le regne ke uus est aparile.

There is a mistake here. John only raised one dead man, the kneeling figure: the three others were raised by Christ, and John merely tells the story of it.

On R. are the two youths in grief.

(I)ci cum seint iohan resuscite treis mors e le fiz de une uedue ki blasme les iuuenceus.

78. John with label: *Offreis repentaunce trente iurs a deu en queus les uerges pusent returner a lur nature*re les gemmes ensement.

Six people (two being the youths) kneel to him.

On R. the two youths kneel facing R. The handles of rods and the stones are seen on R.

(I)ci cum seint iohan dist co ke il deuient fere pur lur trespas.

29 b. 79. John with label: Nostre sire iesu crist dist ke il ne uoit pas la mort des peccheurs mais ke il conuertisent e uesquisent e dist de ceus ki se repentent ke greinure ioie est al cel de.

The two youths face him: Label: Ben sauuns ke nus auuns pecche mes oiz pleines de lermes nus repentuns. E ore te priuns ke la misericorde ke uus auez preche en fet nus demustreis en fet.

On R. the two face R. One has a bundle of rods on his shoulder, the other empties a lap full of pebbles at the foot of two trees.

80. (John destroys Diana's temple.) Crowd on L., one with wreath. John faces R. with label and points to falling temple. Among the ruins is a niche with an image of Diana, a dark ugly woman, crowned. Crowd on R. face L.

Label: Sache ceste multitudne de gent ke cest ydle de diane est diable e ore comaund io al nun nostre seignur ihesu crist ke cest temple de diaine seit destrut od tut les ydles ke en li sunt. issi ke nul houme ne eit dammage.

(I)ci cum le temple od tut les ydles chei par le preere seint iohan.

81. John with label. Aristodemus (with label) and crowd of four face him. Aristodemus is mitred. On R. he stands before a throned ruler and speaks.

Labels: (John). Coment porrei io oster ceste mescreaunce de tun corage si tu me dounes uenin a beiuere • e io le nun de mun deu apele ia tun uenim ne me nuira.

(Aristodemus.) Si tu uois ke io creie en tun deu io te dorrei uenin a beiuere • e kaunt tu le aueras beu si tu sempres ne mures dunc aparra ke tun deu est uerrai ke tu preches.

(I)ci cum seint iohan areisune aristodime e cum aristodime demaunde deus dampnes de la mestre de la cite a beiuere le uenim deuaunt seint iohan.

30*a*. 82. John drinking the poison out of a gold cup: Aristodemus and crowd watch him: before them lie two distorted corpses.

On R. Aristodemus facing R. lays a garment on the two dead men: four others on R. watch.

Labels. (John.) Sire deu li men pere ihesu crist a ki tute creature sert e a ki tote uermine tapist serpent dragun.

(Aristodemus.) Ou tu lessez ceste doctrine ou tu beuez cest uenim si mustreras cum tun deu est pusaunt si tu remaines uif apres ceo ke tu le aueras bu.

(Aristodemus on R.) A uus me enueit le apostle ihesu crist ke uus releueiz en sun nun ke tuz sachent ke uie e mort est suiet al men seignur ihesu crist.

(I)ci cum seint iohan beit le uenim e cum aristodime met la cote seint iohan sur les enuenimes.

83. John with label: Alez si iunez une semaine. Aristodemus in mitre and another kneel to him. In C. he baptizes a man in a tub on legs. Aristodemus strips. Two on R. watch.

(I)ci cum seint iohan dist a aristodime e al mestre de la cite co ke il deiuent fere • e koment il les baptize.

84. The story of the Robber (see Clem. Alex. Quis diues saluetur). John with a youth between his arms whom he commends to a Bishop.

Label: Icestu uus comaund io a garder e endoctriner al tesmoine ihesu crist e etote seinte eglise.

In C. the Bishop, seated, teaches the youth, also seated.

On R. the Bishop baptizes him in a rich font.

(I)ci cum seint iohan baut a la eueske un iuuencel a garder. e cum le eueske enseignet le iuuencel. e cum il le baptize.

30*b*. 85. John and the Bishop facing, with labels. John says: Rendez a mai celu ke io uus comaundai • e par le tesmoine de ceste seinte eglise ke uus gouernez • Io te demaund le iuuencel ke io comaunda. The Bishop, dejected, says: Mors est. Verroiment est il mort a deu • kar il se departi plain de totes mauueistes • e al derein deuint mauueis larun e ore si est en un munt od graunt cumpainie de larruns si ad le munt purpris pur la gent gattes e oscire e rober.

In C. two trees, with birds on them projecting outside the frame. Two men with bows shoot at the birds. The youth sits on a mound on R. facing L. with a bow. A man with wreath on R. strings a bow.

(I)ci cum seint iohan demaunde le iuuencel • e cum il est al bois od laruns.

86. John on a dapple-grey horse riding to R., with label: Pur quai fues tu beau fiz tun pere • pur quai fues tu un ueillard sanz armes. merci eez de tai e ne eez nent de pour • kar unkeore poez auer esperaunce de uie. Beau fiz esteez. A man with wreath, and arrows at his belt, catches the horse's rein. Another facing L. draws his bow. The youth looks to L. and runs to R. among trees.

(I)ci cum le iuuencel senfut • e cum seint iohan point apres si le apele doucement.

87. John on L. takes the arm and kisses the hand of the youth, who kneels to him. In C. he baptizes him in a green font. On R. he leads him by the hand into the door of a church on R.

(I)ci cum seint iohan baise la destre del iuuencel · e cum il le baptize · e cum il le remene al eglise dunt il fu issu.

f. 31 a. On this leaf the inscriptions have not been added, and the drawing is by an inferior hand, and the colouring paler.

88. John and another kneel on L. to an altar in C. On R. John gives a key to one on L. Three people stand in a door on R.

This probably represents the consecration of the church in which John afterwards died.

89. John kneels on L. A beardless Apostle in C. (it should be Christ) holds a church with open doors, and speaks. Behind are six more Apostles, of whom Peter with book is foremost.

This represents Christ appearing with His disciples to John (then aged 99) and bidding him prepare to join them in five days.

90. A crowd of men and women seated and standing listen to John, who stands in blue chasuble, with cross-staff, facing L. Behind him is an altar. He resembles Peter in no. 88. On R. are two men digging his grave with spade and pick.

John's farewell to his people. At his command, a grave is dug for him.

f. 31 b has only one picture at the top.

91. On L. a group of people face R. John in pink chasuble, with joined hands, stands in a marble sarcophagus in the floor.

In C. is a draped altar. The same sarcophagus, empty. Four people on R. look into it and converse.

This represents John descending into his grave: after three days it is found to be empty.

The author of this died about 1340. On this work and the MSS. of it there is information in Leo Allatius, de Georgiis p. 366. The Epitome of the Logic, and the tract περὶ ἀτόμων γραμμῶν, have been printed, the former at Paris in 1548, etc., the latter often with Aristotle's works. A Latin version of the whole (?) by Phil. Bechius, Basle 1560. The Greek text was (see Fabricius Bibl. Gr. VII. 782, ed. Harles) printed at Augsburg in 1600 by J. Wagelin, under the name of Gregorius Aneponym*us*.

Vellum, 13 × 9¼, ff. 42, 38 lines to a page. Cent. xvi (1565).

? Given by Nevile.

Patent of nobility granted in 1565 to Barnabe d'Ortegon.

The first two pages have fine borders of late style, of course, but of good execution: on ground of dead gold. On the first page in the border are four panels in white and blue of four Virtues, Faith, Hope, Justice and Fortitude, and below in a large oval the arms of D'Ortegon, and his titles in the framing. Also a large initial of the knight kneeling in a landscape with scroll AVE REGINA CELORVM and the Virgin and Child in clouds.

On the second page in the lower border is a picture of Orpheus fiddling and beasts, birds and snakes coming about him.

At end

Fenja y carta ex^a. de hidalgiria de bernabe de ortegon de sinote la villa de medina del campo.

The leaden seal mentioned in Cat. MSS. Angl. (cum appenso sigillo plumbeo) is not now with the MS.

Paper, $11\frac{1}{4} \times 8\frac{1}{4}$, ff. 4 + 669, 12 lines to a page, well written. Cent. xv, xvi.

Given by Dr Richard Bentley, in 1757.

The edges of the leaves have circles painted on them in red, in one of which is the word OMHPOΣ.

In the volume is a note by Walter Leaf, M.A. (formerly Fellow), dated 25 May 1884, to the effect that the MS. is known as the Codex Mori, having belonged to John More [Moore], Bishop of Ely.

"It was collated (very carelessly) by Barnes, whose readings have been followed by Heyne and La Roche. It is one of the best of the second class of MSS. of the Iliad, but appears to be more carelessly written in the later books. See La Roche, Homerische Textkritik, Leipzig 1866, p. 466, no. 62."

Collation: a^4 | a^8–$\iota\zeta^8$ $\iota\eta^6$ $\iota\theta^8$–$\pi\delta^8$ (wants 8).

There is no commemoration of St Thomas of Canterbury. There are no additions of a later time to the Kalendar, though in one or two places the original scribe has added something après coup. The word papa has been erased.

The extremely slight notice taken of St Augustine (of Canterbury) is accounted for by the rivalry subsisting between the two monasteries. Hardly any of the early Archbishops are entered, probably because they were buried at St Augustine's.

On f. 1 a in three columns are the following paragraphs introductory to the Psalter. Each has a plain gold initial.

[1] I have been hitherto unable to discover the date of St Eadburga's translation to Canterbury.

1. Prophetia est inspiratio diuina
—uel interpretandi.
2. Idittum • asaph • filii chore.
3. Rex dauid cum prospere regnaret.
4. Solet queri cur pro aliis scripturis.
5. Sciendum est cl. psalmos.
6. Ante peccauit dauid.
7. Unus est liber non quinque.
8. Ebraice liber iste interpretatur.
9. Ymnus est laus dei.
10. De christo in omni opere agit.
11. Materia igitur est totius operis.
12. Primus psalmus ideo dicitur carere titulo.
13. Propheta considerans perditionem —quo contuitu in laudem erumpit [hoc modo added].
14. Beatus uir. In quo triplex mors anime.
(Rogantibus discipulis dominum ut quartum suscitaret mortuum dixisse fertur. dimittite mortuos s(epelire) m(ortuos) s(uos). hi sunt impenitentes in peccatis sepulti.)
—in fine ponit retributionem iustorum.
15. The Collect. Suscipere dignare domine deus.

On f. 1 b lower half in three columns (the upper half of the page being taken up by a picture),

Inc. epistola beati Ieronimi presbiteri super psalterio secundum hebraicam ueritatem . . . . . f. 1 b
Eusebius Iheronimus sophronio suo —cupio te meminisse mei.

Text in three columns.

1. Hebr. i.e. Jerome's Latin version from the Hebrew with an interlinear version in French.

This version, which constitutes the earliest extant French Psalter, has been edited by Francisque Michel.

Vide Berger, La Bible Française au moyen âge.

2. Rom. i.e. Jerome's 'Roman' version, being the Gallican version corrected from the Hebrew by Jerome at Rome, and used in the Roman Churches.

With an interlinear version in Anglo-Saxon. Edited for the Early English Text Society by F. Harsley, 1889. The text only has appeared. The Introduction is promised.

These two columns are each half the breadth of the third, and have twice as many lines of text.

3. Gall. The 'Gallican' psalter ordinarily used in the Western Church.

With marginal and interlinear glosses in Latin, e.g.

Primus psalmus bipertitus. de beato uiro. et de ultionibus iniquorum. Statum per beat*us* blanditur. Beata cui succedunt omnia optata. Vir contra prospera et aduersa firmus terret aduersis. Non sic • i •

The interlinear versions and glosses are so far as I can judge in the same hand as the text. It is a fine smooth round hand, not like the 'prickly' hand characteristic of Christ Church, which may be seen in many MSS. in this collection. The large majority of the marginal notes are in this same round hand: but occasionally there are additions by other scribes. One, who writes a distinctly sloping hand, has added 3 lines on f. 4 a, col. 2. Another, whose work is very copious, approaches the 'prickly' style of writing, especially near the latter end of the book: see e.g. the marginal notes on Ps. 150.

Each Psalm is followed by a Collect. That on Ps. 1 begins:

Domine apud quem est salus plenitudo iustorum et perfectio beatitudinis incorrupte.

The last is that following Ps. 150 (for the Cantica have none).

Omnipotens et misericors deus clementiam tuam suppliciter deprecor ut me famulum tuum EADWINUM tibi fideliter seruire concedas • et perseuerentiam bonam et felicem consummationem michi largiri digneris • et hoc psalterium quia (?quod) in conspectu tuo cantaui ad salutem et ad remedium animę meę proficiat sempiternum. Amen.

This, however, is preceded by another referring specially to the Psalm, and beginning Armon(i)e nostre suauissimum melos qui nostri pectoris modulamina.

The arrangement of the versions and glosses in the Cantica differs from that in the Psalter proper. At first we still have three columns, viz.

1. French version written in text hand (replacing the Hebraicum which only exists for the Psalter).
2. Romanum with Anglo-Saxon version.
3. Gallicanum with Latin gloss.

This applies to the Old Testament Cantica, viz. Canticum Isaiae, Ezechiae, Annae, Moysis (1), Abbacuc, Moysis (2).

After this we have two main columns of text on a page, of equal breadth, giving the Gallicanum only, and the two versions Anglo-Saxon and French between the lines, Anglo-Saxon being uppermost.

This applies to: Benedicite, Te Deum, Benedictus, Magnificat, Nunc Dimittis, Gloria in Excelsis, Pater noster, Credo, Quicunque vult, Pusillus eram.

There are marginal notes on all except Benedicite, Te Deum, Credo, Gloria.

Pusillus eram has this title in red:

Hic psalmus proprie scribitur dauid et extra numerum cum pugnauit cum goliath. hic psalmus in ebreis codicibus non habetur. sed nec a septuaginta inquit interpretibus additus est et iccirco repudiandus.

It is followed by two long notes in Eadwin's hand, and a third in another hand.

(1) On the Lord's Prayer, the text of which is in red, Dicitur quod d. n. I. C. de inpenetrabili sapientia sua docuit discipulos suos orare.

—et nos et ipsos ad celeste regnum perducat. Amen.

(2) On the Apostles' Creed. The text of the creed in red, with an Apostle's name to each clause.

This I think is a method of prognostication. The seer adds up the letters of the client's name, giving them the values assigned above. Then in a case of sickness or quarrel he divides by 9, and then has recourse to the table above.

The decoration and illustration of this MS. are, as is well known, most magnificent and copious. It is not my purpose to describe the pictures in full here: possibly I may be able to do that in a separate publication. At present I will merely indicate the system of decoration.

(1) Initials. Each of the Psalms has a decorative initial in each of the three Versions: those attached to the Gallicanum are uniformly larger and more important than the others. I do not think that even the 51st and 101st Psalms are distinguished by specially large initials.

(2) Pictures. Each Psalm or Canticle is illustrated by an oblong picture extending across the page. The backgrounds of these are left plain. The figures are drawn with the pen, and the outlines washed with colour. The principal colours are blue, green, vermilion, and brown. Gold is not employed in the pictures. Each picture illustrates the text of the Psalm, literally: in very few cases is there any reference to New Testament events thought to be predicted or typified. One of the exceptions is Ps. xxi (xxii) where there is a picture of the Cross.

The whole set of pictures is copied either directly from the Utrecht Psalter (formerly in the Cottonian Library and before that at Canterbury) or, less probably, from a MS. similar thereto. Other Psalters exist which contain essentially the same illustrations. One is Harley 603 (cent. x), another in the Bibliothèque Nationale, Suppl. Lat. 1194 (cent. xiii).

The Utrecht Psalter is now believed to have been written in France (near Rheims) in cent. ix.

There are but few divergences in the pictures in the Canterbury

Psalter from their prototypes in the Utrecht Psalter, and all those of importance occur in the first seven Psalms.

Ps. i. In C. the text of the Psalm is written over the ground in various places. The Inferno in R. lower corner much exaggerated.

ii. Portions of the text of the Psalm written on the ground. The colouring and drawing of this picture seem to me different from the others.

iii. Title written in red across the top. Added on R. is Absalom hanging to a tree, and the mule walking away.

iv. A devil seated on a tower, hardly visible in U.

v. A whole tier of figures added above, viz. on L. two buildings in which sit (a) a woman (Hagar) with a child, (b) a woman (Sarah) weeping. A mandorla with Christ seated, between two seraphs and two angels. Building with woman and child facing R. Man (Abraham) stands full-face. On R. Hagar with barrel on back leads away Ishmael.

vi. Tier of figures added, divided into two compartments.

L. Man with sack on shoulders. Man standing over sack on ground. Two others, dejected (Joseph's brethren).

R. The Ascension. The Apostles seated below in two groups of six.

Christ above in mandorla held by two angels in clouds.

vii. Tier of scenes added. L. two cities: in each a king seated surrounded by councillors. Behind him a standing figure, in the second case Christ.

C. King throned, another speaks to him. Above, the Son speaks to the Father, throned.

R. King, throned, looks up. On R. in air, Christ in mandorla supported by angels. On L. seven draped people. On R. six nude ones.

Below, a troop of armed men.

viii. As in the Utrecht Psalter.

ix. ,,

x. ,,

xi. In circuitu impii ambulant is written on the ring round which the ungodly are moving.

All the rest of the pictures, including those for the Canticles and for Ps. cli., correspond very accurately with those in the Utrecht Psalter. The artist, working as a copyist, and far less light in touch than his model, has emphasized and coarsened and stiffened the designs a good deal: but, with the exception of the additions already noted, has made none of his own. The presence and character of those additions seem to indicate that he set out with the idea of supplementing and interpreting the earlier pictures; but he soon found the task too great, and abandoned it.

is blue. Eadwine is tonsured, with small beard, and clad in a white cowl shaded in green. He is seated in a chair ornamented with arches, and has an open (blank) book before him on a desk covered with a white cloth. He holds pen in R. hand, knife in L. The outer frame is filled with patterns in green and brown.

The following inscription in green and red capitals surrounds the picture beginning at the top on L.

SCRIPTOR (supply loquitur). SRIPTORUM (sic) PRINCEPS EGO NEC OBITURA DEINCEPS LAVS MEA NEC FAMA. QVIS SIM MEA LITTERA CLAMA.
LITTERA. TE TVA SRIPTVRA QUEM SIGNAT PICTA FIGURA ♀
(top L. again). ♀ PREDICAT EADWINVM FAMA PER SECULA VIVUM.
INGENIUM CVIVS LIBRI DECUS INDICAT HVIVS.
QVEM TIBI SEQUE DATVM MVNVS DEUS ACCIPE GRATVM.

This is now preceded by the great plan of Christ Church, Canterbury (first published in the Vetusta Monumenta, 1747), which has been often discussed: best by Professor R. Willis in 1867, who published an uncoloured drawing of it from a tracing.

The double leaf, of which the second page is stuck to the cover, has a part of a plan of Christ Church or of some of its outer buildings, designed to shew the water and drain systems which are coloured in green and red. I am not certain whether the leaf now stuck to the cover has the remainder of this plan on it: but what remains is more roughly done than the other plan, and may perhaps have been used as waste by the original binder of the book.

988. The Sidney Psalter. { R. 17. 2 / 254

Vellum, $22\frac{3}{4} \times 16\frac{1}{4}$, ff. 147, 20 lines to a page. Cent. xv (1450), in a fine large hand, with good English ornament consisting of decorative initials (pink, green, blue, etc.) with feathered flourishings.

Binding, wooden boards, plain metal corners and bosses, four out of eight remaining.

Given by Whitgift. Traces of his arms are on the boards and the book is mentioned in the list of his MSS. as 'Psalterium magnum Latine.'

Collation: Kal.^{6} || 1^{8} (1 supplied, xvi)–6^{8} (wants 6)–11^{8} (wants 2?) –13^{8} 14^{2} (wants 2) 14^{*8} (wants 1, 2?) 15^{8} 16^{4} (4 canc.?) 17^{8} 18^{8} 19^{6} (6 canc.).

Contents:

Kalendar in black, pink, scarlet, and gold . . . . . f. i
With births, marriages and deaths of the Sidney family, recorded in a neat xvith cent. hand.

Psalter 1

The first leaf is a supplement of early xvith cent. It has a border of conventional foliage and real flowers, and a large initial containing on a ground of dead gold the Sidney arms with eleven quarterings enclosed in a garter. Supporters, a lion or with crown half gu. half arg. and a bear: crest, a bear with chain and collar or.

Dominus illuminatio, bordered, two crocodiles in lower margin. Large shield in initial.

Dixi custodiam, similar border: the two green crocodiles are gorged with coronets. Same arms in the initial.

Quid gloriaris, partial border. Shield in initial. Motto: Seruir le doy, in silver on red scroll.

Dixit insipiens, border and initial as for Dixi custodiam.

Salvum me fac, gone.

Exultate, border and initial as before.

Cantate, similar.

Dixit dominus, similar.

The end of the Psalter from cxlix. 2 is wanting.

The beginning of the Cantica is also gone, as far as pastorum • Precisa est uelud a texente (in the Canticum Ezechie).

The Cantica end with the Sarum litanies for the week, and are followed by a blank leaf.

Officium mortuorum, border and initial with arms as before. There is a partial border and smaller initial with arms to Verba mea and another with decorative initial to the Commendaciones animarum.

The volume ends with the prayer
Tibi domine commendamus animas.

The shield which appears regularly in the large initials is quarterly 1 and 4 gules a fess checky of arg. and sa. between six crosses crosslet or, 2 and 3 or two bends dexter gu.

989. DRAWINGS OF ROMAN SCULPTURE ETC. { R. 17. 3 / 551

Paper: a folio book measuring $18\frac{1}{2} \times 12$.

It contains a series of 90 drawings in red chalk and in ink of antique sculptures, of frescoes of Michel Angelo, paintings of Raphael, and one or two views of ancient buildings, all at Rome.

The volume has been completely described by Professor Adolf Michaelis in the Jahrbuch des Kaiserlich-Deutschen Archäologischen Instituts, 1892, Band VII. Heft 2, pp. 92–100, where a complete list of the drawings is given.

Professor Michaelis ascribes them to a Flemish artist working at Rome in or about the year 1583. They were apparently done for an English amateur, for the descriptive legends on them are written in English of a very Flemish complexion.

990. OPERA S. HIERONYMI. I. { R. 17. 4 / 251

Vellum, $21\frac{1}{2} \times 14\frac{1}{2}$, ff. 301, 46 lines to a page. Cent. XV (1477) in a clear Roman hand, with pretty ornaments.

Given by Nevile. It is mentioned in the Register among his gifts as 'Hieronymi operum volumina duo.'

Collation: in quires of eight: the first leaf of quire 2 has been cut out.

The contents are:

1. Dedication to Paul II. copied from the edition of (Conrad and Arnold).
2. List of contents, viz. 121 tracts or letters, divided into two partes, of which the first is arranged in four tractatus according to subject-matter, the second in two tractatus . . f. 2
3. Life of Jerome 5
   Plerosque nimirum illustrium uiros.
4. The text of Jerome begins on f. 9 with the Expositio symboli ad Laurentium papam. The original f. 9 has been cut out.
   The last item in the volume is

   At the end of this is the scribe's signature
   T. Werken, Anno domini 1477.

Other MSS. by this scribe exist at Balliol College, viz. no. 34 written at London in 1461, 66, 67 A, 67 B dated 1444, 127 dated 1450, 238 dated 1448, 287 dated 1450, 295 dated 1445. His full name is Theodericus Nycolaus Werken de Abbenbroeck.

991. OPERA S. HIERONYMI. II. { R. 17. 5 / 252

Vellum, $21\frac{1}{2} \times 14\frac{1}{2}$, ff. 308, 46 lines to a page: in the same hand as the last.

It begins with a Preface addressed to Paul II. Then follows a list of contents.

This volume contains Pars II. Tractatus III.–VI. and Pars III. Tract. I.–XIV., followed by an Appendix of Epistles, of which the last is the spurious letter of Cyril to Augustine on the miracles of St Jerome.

The Text begins on f. 9.

This page has a very fine border without background, framed in plain gold. It consists of conventional flowers and has a few figures of men interspersed.

The initial has a picture on dead gold ground, of St Jerome as cardinal seated in a high-backed chair, lion at his feet, book on desk before him. A black monk kneels on R. with scroll: Sancte Jeronime ora pro me.

The general effect of this work, which is done in a dry Dutch style, is extremely good.

On the last page is the colophon in black capitals:

EUSEBII • HIERONIMI • DOCTORIS • EXIMII • SECVNDVM • EPISTOLARUM • EXPLICIT • VOLVMEN • ANNO DOMINI • 1478.

T. WERKEN.

The smaller initials throughout are very good. They are especially numerous and conspicuous in the tract De Viris Illustribus, ff. 270–280.

992. { R. 17. 6 / 553

Paper, $17\frac{1}{4} \times 11$, ff. cir. 150, 5 only written. Cent. xvii.

1. A copy of a letter from Dr John Hacket, Bishop of Lichfield, to Dr Pearson, Master, dated 11 Aug. 1669, announcing a gift of £1200 to be expended in the reparation of "Garrets Hostle" (now Bishop's Hostel).

2. A copy of a letter of thanks signed by Dr Pearson and nine seniors, 27 Nov. 1669.

3. Decision of a Court of Law (25 June, 24 Carol. II.) in a case between Andrew Hacket (son of the Bishop) and the College.

4. Account of the rents of Bishop's Hostel and the sums due out of these to the Library in 1677–82 and 1698.

The rest of the book is blank.

993. Chronicle of England (Abingdon). { R. 17. 7 / 525

Vellum, $31\frac{3}{8} \times 11$, ff. 23, 50 lines to a page. Cent. xiv early, in a large and beautiful hand, with good ornaments.

The size and shape of this book are abnormal. They were no doubt determined by the fact that chronicles of the kind herein contained were commonly written upon rolls.

Given by Whitgift. From Abingdon Abbey.

Collation: 1^{10} 2^{14} (14 canc.).

Chronicle, beginning imperfectly:

ccccl xxiii° Hengistus et est quarta uice cum britonibus pugnauerunt.

On f. 3*a* is the story of the foundation of Abingdon Abbey and of Heanus the first Abbot. After this, allusions to the Abbey are frequent.

At the top of f. 10*a* under the year 1066 is an initial with gold ground, and a good picture of William seated with crown and sceptre. A Church on R.

f. 10*b*. William II., crowned, drops arrow and bow, and staggers back. His breast is pierced by an arrow. Tree on R.

f. 11*a*. Henry I., throned, full-face, with sword.

f. 14*a*. Stephen, crowned, seated, with empty hands. Church on R.

f. 15*a*. Henry II., crowned, seated, with hawk on hand.

f. 16*b*. Richard I., crowned and throned, with sword.

f. 17 a. John, crowned and throned, with foliated sceptre.
f. 18 b. Henry III., beardless, otherwise like the last.
f. 21 b. Edward I., crowned and throned, hands empty. Church on R.
Ends f. 23 b
m°cccij°. Flandrenses deuicerunt francos tribus uicibus in campo etc.
ending:
Propter quod dominus papa primo et secundo ipsum monuit et tandem misit archiepiscopum de nerbon cum coortacione canonica ut errantem reprimeret quem rex uiuum fecit humari.

994. Memoriale Collegii Trinitatis. R. 17. 8

Vellum, $18\frac{3}{4} \times 14$, pp. 133, written. Cent. xvii (1614).
Bound in red morocco with gold tooling.
Given by Sir Edward Stanhope, who had it made.

A fine illuminated title-page representing a portico whose supporting columns are covered with the shields of the English sovereigns from Edward III. to Mary. The columns are surmounted by the supporters in gold, a lion and a crowned eagle each with a banner. In the tympanum are the arms of the united kingdom with supporters and garter. At the bottom the arms of Stanhope.

Title, in 3 medallions:

998. R. 17. 12

A quarto volume of about 250 leaves containing a careful catalogue and description of the coins and medals in the Library. Compiled by Dr Mason, and in his autograph.

999. R. 17. 13

A catalogue, occupying twelve pages folio, of the manuscripts of Dr Isaac Barrow (R. 10. 15–28): compiled by the Rev. J. Prince Lee, M.A., Fellow.

1000–1018. R. 17. 14–32

Nineteen quarto volumes, containing Poems by the Rev. Charles Hoyle (B.A. 1794, M.A. 1797), who died at Weston, Wilts, (of which parish he was incumbent) on Nov. 13th, 1848. There is a brief notice of him in the Gentleman's Magazine of the period.

The volumes contain:

1. Hymns.
2. Killarney, in three Cantos.
3–15. Exodus, an Epic in 13 books, corrected for a second edition.
16. Elias Eremites: a drama.
17. Cambria.
18, 19. Miscellanies, 1833, 1834.

1019. R.

A folio volume, containing papers and letters of Sir Isaac Newton and others. Given by Edward Howkins.

The following notice of their origin is inserted:

The following Letters, etc. were collected from amongst the loose Papers bequeathed by the late Dr Robt Smith to Edward Howkins: whom the Dr in his last will desired "to burn all the loose Papers & Paper-Books of his own Handwriting" that were found in the old gallery at the Lodge, as being imperfect.

Some few Letters from Mr Professor Cotes to Sir Isaac Newton are wanted to complete the Correspondence between them; which probably were not return'd to Dr Smith from Mr Conduitt, who formerly borrow'd them.

At the end of the volume are papers relating to the portrait of Newton purchased by the College in 1850.

1020. R.

A folio volume, containing a collection of letters addressed to Dr Bentley. There are 144 items in the list prefixed (which is by Dr Luard). Almost all have been printed in Wordsworth's Correspondence.

Dr Luard notes that "the collection of Letters in this volume was bequeathed by Dr Bentley to his nephew Dr R. Bentley, who gave them to Mr R. Cumberland, by whom they were presented to Trinity College. The exceptions to this are the following:

8. Given to Trinity College by the Rev. T. Kidd.

84, 88, 100*b*, 142. From the Muniment Room of Trinity College.

The letters were arranged and placed in the present volume in August, 1857."

In the same class, without press-marks, are 69 volumes of notes on legal Cases, taken by various Judges, circa 1860.

ADDENDA.

1021. NOTE-BOOK OF WILLIAM LOE. R. 2. 33[a]

A note by Mr Grosart refers to his memoir of Dr Loe (the father) prefixed to the reprint of his Songs of Sion in the Fuller Worthies' Miscellanies.

1022, 1023. Tennyson Manuscripts.

The autograph manuscript of Lord Tennyson's In Memoriam, in a volume measuring 12½ by 3½ inches, is preserved in a glass case near class R.

The notice hung above it gives particulars of its acquisition in the following terms:

"The manuscript volume containing the rough draft or "first jottings" of In Memoriam was presented by the Hon. Catherine Lady Simeon and Hallam second Lord Tennyson to the Rev. Henry Montagu Butler, D.D., Master of Trinity College, Cambridge, and to his successors in the mastership, to be kept in perpetuity in the Library of Trinity College, on condition that, in accordance with the express wish of the late Poet Laureate, no copy of it, or of any part of it, should ever be taken, and that nothing in it which has not been published should ever be published.

The MS. was received 27 January 1898."

In the same case is shown a smaller volume containing the autograph of the poems published by Alfred Tennyson and his brother Charles under the title of Poems by Two Brothers (1827). This volume was purchased by members of the College in 1894 and presented to the College.

The manuscript contains about 90 leaves of poems and several letters. The volume of 1827 was republished in 1893 by Messrs Macmillan & Co. together with four poems from the manuscript, which had not appeared in 1827. There remain seven poems in the manuscript which have never been printed.

1024. W. M. Thackeray's Esmond.

Two quarto volumes, each $16\frac{3}{8} \times 12\frac{3}{8}$. On each leaf are fastened four leaves of ordinary writing paper. In the first volume 69 leaves are so treated, out of about 200. In the second there are 166.

There are three hands in the volumes; Thackeray's own, that of his daughter, now Mrs Richmond Ritchie, and that of an amanuensis, Mr Eyre Crowe.

Volume I. contains the Preface (3 ff.) and "The History of Henry Esmond" chapters i–xiv, ending —whither he resolved to go and give himself up.

Vol. II begins with Vol. II. Chapter I. of Esmond:

Those may imagine who have seen death untimely strike down persons revered and beloved etc. (Book II. Chapter I. in the single-volume editions.)

and ends with the words

the tenderest heart in the world.

The whole work is therefore complete.

The manuscript was presented to the College by Leslie Stephen, M.A., Trinity Hall, in 1888.

It is preserved in a show-case by itself.
